Maryland Basketball 1995-96

Welcome

TO THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

ead Coach Gary Williams, his staff and team would like to welcome you to Cole Field House and hope to make your visit as enjoyable as possible. The Terrapin basketball program is one of the top all-around programs in the nation and Cole is one of the more exciting places to watch and cover a game. The Sports Information staff is always available to serve you, and has prepared this media guide as a source of information which the news media can refer to throughout the season. Welcome to Maryland. We hope you enjoy your visit.

BEFORE YOU ARRIVE

Game credentials are issued to accredited members of the media only. Working space in the press area of Cole is limited and seats are expressly reserved for those working on deadline, with no exceptions. Children and other non-workers are not allowed in the press area. Credentials should be ordered at least one week before each game, and are issued through the Sports Information Office. Requests for credentials should be made in writing and on letterhead stationery to Chuck Walsh, Sports Information Director for Men's Basketball. If it is convenient for you to FAX your request, you are welcome to do so. The FAX number in the Sports Information Office is (301) 314-9094. These requests are accepted from Sports Editors and Sports Directors only. The credential requests should be sent so that they reach the Sports Information Office at least one week prior to the desired games. They are carefully screened to insure good working conditions in the press area. When time permits, a working press pass and a parking pass will be mailed. When this is not possible, they will be left at the Press Will Call entrance at the back door of Cole. The back door of Cole directly faces Byrd Stadium.

Photographers, too, should make their credential requests at least one week in advance. Credential requests for photography passes are welcome. Photographers should note that the Cole Field House lights are color balanced for daylight. An exposure setting of /250 at f2.8 has been found to work well with ASA 400 film and normal processing. Strobe lights may be installed in Cole; but arrangements must be made though the Sports Information Office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first come, first served basis.

Game Day Press Parking is located in Parking Garage 1, located to the left of the Press Entrance (back door) of Cole Field House. The parking garage is best accessed from the Stadium Drive entrance to campus. Access is via press parking pass only and is available on a limited basis.

MEDIA WORK ROOM

A press work room is available for working media only on the court level of Cole. The new media workroom is located just off of the basketball court. A limited number of long distance phone lines are available on a first-come, first serve basis, and require a credit card for billing.

The room opens well before game time, and media representatives are welcome to make themselves comfortable. Food service is available to the media in the press room. A half-time and post-game beverage service is also available. The pre-game buffet is available one hour before tip-off.

FAX MACRINE SERVICE

Fax machine service will be available in the press room. If you need any information faxed to your newspaper, please submit your request to a member of the Sports Information Office.

PRESS SEATING

Press seating is located on the basketball floor in the northwest corner of the arena. The area is manned by members of the Sports Information Office throughout the game. The Sports Information staff desires to help the media be as comfortable as possible during each game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in the photography areas on the basketball court. Only photographers on assignment are given photo passes along with members of working television media. Admission to the court and the photo boxes is by photo pass only. Photographers, both still and electronic, must shoot from the baselines at . the Northwest (Maryland Bench end/directly in front of press seating) and Southeast (visiting bench) corners of the court. Photographer's floor access is governed by Atlantic Coast Conference policy. Please note that only game photographers have access to the photography areas. Photographers are also welcome to shoot from the photo deck on the West side of Cole. Access to the photo deck is from the concourse level opposite the team benches. Photographer positions are at the complete discretion of the basketball game officials and the

All Maryland players and Head Coach Gary Williams will be available for interviews with accredited members of the media throughout the season. ALL INTERVIEW REQUESTS must be made through the Sports Information Office, contacting Chuck Walsh, Herb Hartnett or joe f. blair. Player interviews are conducted before practice in the media workroom. Please allow for 24 hours prior notice. Player's individual phone numbers will not be given to the media and game day interviews will not be granted until the end of a game.

The Sports Information Office is located on the main level of Cole Field House in room 1102. The phone number is (301) 314-7065 and the FAX number is (301) 314-9094.

Practices are open to the media with few exceptions. The team generally practices from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Weekend practice times vary; media wishing to attend practice should contact the Sports information Office ahead of time. Still and electronic photographers are welcome to practice provided they do not interfere with the practice.

Players will not be available for live call-in radio shows.

POST GAME PRESS CONFERENCES

Post game coaches interviews are held in the basketball lounge adjacent to the media work room and the Maryland lockerroom. Coaches from both teams will be brought to the interview area after each game. Coach Gary Williams will appear first, immediately after he talks to his team. He will be followed by the visiting coach. The Maryland locker room is open to credentialed media for a brief period after Coach Williams concludes his comments to the media. This is in accordance with ACC rules. The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school.

POST GAME STATISTICS

Statistics packets, including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores and post-game quotes are compiled following every game, and made available to the media at press row and in the press room.

Welcome to the University of Maryland's Cole Field House. We hope you enjoy your visit.

The 1995-96 University of Maryland Men's Basketball Media Guide was published by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Deborah A. Yow Director. It was written, compiled and edited by Chuck Walsh with considerable help from Herb Hartnett, ioe f. blair. Heather Czeczok, Vanessa Abell and Andy Krauss. Lisa Helfert, who chronicled Maryland's athletic history by giving generously of her talent and time, is the chief photographer for the publication. Photographs also appear courtesy of Doug Pensinger who took the headshots, team pictures and contributed much of the fantastic artwork, Bruce Schwartzman and Dave Krause. Layout and design is by Dave Pfeiffer of Concrete Creative in Beltsville, Md. who is a creative genius and continues to amaze the world with each artistic creation. The publication was printed by Presstar Printing, Inc. of Silver Spring, Md. A great deal of thanks goes to the staff of Presstar who helped make this book possible: Joel Kauffman, June Lung and Don French. Thank you Nancy, for without you, this media guide would never have been completed.

Outlook

f the Maryland Terrapins were the one-man team many in college basketball think they are, they might have cratered against Gonzaga in the first round of the NCAA basketball Tournament
Thursday night."

"If the Terps were the one-man team of Sportscenter legend, they'd be in big trouble today in the second round against Texas, a frantic, guard-oriented team that thrives on its opponents inability to play defense 20 feet from the basket."

"Joe Smith can't win the game out there.

"And he couldn't do anything against Gonzaga."

So wrote John Eisenberg of the Baltimore Sun in March of 1995 during the Terps second consecutive run to the "Sweet 16" round of the NCAA Tournament.

The same can be said of the Terps as they approach the 1995-96 season.

One of the most talented and experienced Maryland teams in recent memories will attempt to take the Terps to new heights. The Terps return four starters, have experience coming off the bench, and welcome three exciting freshmen to one of the nation's top Division I programs.

The most prominent player missing from the Maryland lineup is Joe Smith, last year's leader in scoring (20.0 ppg), rebounding (10.7 ppg) and blocked shots (2.9 bpg). The 6-10 All-America center left college after his sophomore season to enter the National Basketball Association draft, where he was the first overall selection. Smith was the consensus selection as the 1995 National Collegiate Player of the Year, winning the Naismith and Adolph Rupp awards as the National Player of the Year. In addition, he became only the third sophomore in history to win the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year award.

But with four-fifths of its starting lineup back, Maryland is ready to continue its ascent into the top tier of the nation's premier teams.

The loss of Smith means Maryland's active, pressure style of defense may become even more active and pressure packed. If this holds true, a great deal of the offensive and defensive load will be shouldered by Maryland's superb backcourt.

The Terps return an exceptional backcourt tandem in seniors Johnny Rhodes and Duane Simpkins. The pair has been the starting backcourt in College Park for 64 consecutive games. Together, combine for 153 starting assignments. During that time. Maryland has advanced to the NCAA Tournament "Sweet 16" twice, finished in first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference standings once and won nearly 70 percent of its games.

Rhodes has developed into one of the most versatile players in the nation. At 6-4, and a lefthander, Rhodes is comfortable as the point or shooting guard. He is one of the top defensive specialists in the nation. At 6-4, he is tall enough to see over most defenses. allowing him to see open teammates. His dribble is deceptively quick. His crossover has been known to leave even the quickest opponent looking at the back of his uniform.

Rhodes enters his senior season on pace to shatter the ACC record for career steals. He begins his senior season with 234 career steals and a 2.54 steals per game average. Should he lead the Terps in steals, he will become only the third player in ACC history to lead his team in steals during each of his four varsity seasons.

Simpkins, also a lefthander, led Maryland in assists last season and will be called upon to help fill the scoring void left by Smith's departure. He worked hard to improved his outside shot and will have to step up and be one of Maryland's top outside shooting threats. But this is a player who has improved throughout his career, and his everrising numbers have displayed that fact.

He is one of only four point guards in Maryland history to have averaged in double figure scoring and at least 4.5 assists per game in two consecutive seasons. His averages of 11.1 points and 4.7 assists during his back-to-back sophomore and junior seasons placing him in select Terp company with All-American John Lucas, first round NBA 1st round draft choice Brad Davis and Kevin McLinton, Complimenting his shooting, Simpkins is one of only two returning players in the ACC to have ranked among the top six in assists in each of the last two years.

Rhodes and Simpkins will be joined in the backcourt by juniors Matt Kovarik (60 career games played) and Matt Raydo (21 career games played), sophomore Sarunas Jasikevicius (29 games played) and freshman Terrell Stokes.

Kovarik, a veteran of two complete ACC seasons, will add to Maryland's overall team depth. The only player outside of the regular starting five to gain one start in each of the last two years, Kovarik's outside shot and passing capabilities are two aspects of his game which need to be sharp for him to help the Terps. Raydo is another point guard who is capable of adding valuable minutes as a reserve, and is a crowd favorite.

Jasikevicius,
Maryland's designated outside shooter, showed flashes of brilliance during his freshman season. He will be counted on as one of Maryland's top three-point shooting threats. He was sixth among ACC freshmen
last year with a 38.7
mark from three-point range.

In Stokes, Maryland has the prototypical Gary Williams-type point guard. In addition to scoring 13.8 points per game as a senior at nationally ranked Simon Gratz in Philadelphia, Stokes averaged 9.2 assists and 5.8 steals a game. He has been labeled as the No. 1 pure point guard entering the college ranks.

Maryland's frontline will be anchored by iunior forward Keith Booth, one of only two juniors in the ACC to have earned all conference honors each of the last two years. He played beside Joe Smith starting 64 consecutive games. He is one of the most experienced frontcourt players in the nation. He averaged 10.8 points and 6.7 rebounds during his first two years while consistently outperforming bigger players. Because of his talent and tenacity, Booth routinely tangles with bigger players while fighting for position under the boards. He has competed with the likes of former North Carolina All-American Jerry Stackhouse, Georgia Tech's James Forrest, Wake Forest's Travis Banks, Florida State's 6-11 Corey Lewis and Duke's 6-10 Erik Meek.

Booth will be joined in the frontcourt by senior Mario Lucas, one of the top sixth men in the ACC during much of his career. Lucas brings many different looks with him to the frontcourt table. He has the size and strength (6-8, 240) to play underneath and to be among the top rebounders in the conference. He also has the mobility and shooting range to be able to beat many smaller players from beyond the free throw and three point lines. Lucas was fourth on the team in rebounds and third on the team in three point shots made. He is also very experienced, having played in 87 career games.

Senior Exree Hipp, maybe the most athletic player in the nation, rounds out Maryland's frontcourt. The two-time honorable mention All-

ACC selection has displayed great offensive and defensive capabilities throughout his career, which now spans 92 consecutive starts. He scored a season high 23 points versus North Carolina in last year's ACC Tournament, after hitting for 21 versus Duke in the regular season. In the Duke contest, Hipp hit five of six three point shots. At 6-8, Hipp has become one of the more difficult match-up problems for Terp opponents. His ability to play perimeter defense against a smaller forward or guard gives Maryland a great advantage. He will be looked upon to help make up for Smith's absence.

Sophomore Rodney Elliott and freshmen Obinna Ekezie and Laron Profit will prove to be valuable front-court reserve players. That trio of underclassman will play vital roles in Williams's substitution pattern and will have to add quality minutes every night.

Elliott, a high school teammate of Booth at Baltimore Dunbar, possesses strong defensive skills which make him a valuable reserve. He has added nearly 15 pounds to his frame which will help him as he competes for extended playing time. Elliott was at his best in the NCAA Tournament as he scored nine points and grabbed two rebounds in only seven minutes of play while spelling Smith who was in early foul trouble.

Ekezie and Profit will both compete for playing time on the frontline. Ekezie is a solid player who will see a dramatic improvement in his play quickly upon entering the Williams system. His ability to play well and more importantly, consistently well, underneath is something that the Terps' coaching staff will ask of the Nigerian born newcomer.

Profit is an athletic swing-type player who will help the Terps in a number of different areas. He has good ball handling skills, shoots well in the open court and under pressure and runs the floor well. Profit will fit into Maryland's style immediately and will offer a valuable back-up at the off guard and quickside forward positions.

Maryland will once again face one of the toughest schedules of any team in the he country. Beginning with Kentucky in the Starter/Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic. Massachusetts in the Franklin National Bank Classic and UCLA in the Wooden Classic. Maryland will have faced three teams which all advanced to the "Elite" 8 of the NCAA Tournament last year. The Terps will continue their schedule after Christmas with the always tough 16game ACC slate. Williams has added another tough wrinkle during the ACC schedule - a February home date with Missouri.

Maryland returns what may be the most experienced lineup in the country with a combined 309 starts and 340 games played. Add to that a fifth starter who has played in 87 career games and a bench which has played a total of 140 games with an extremely strong trio of freshman and Williams likes what he sees on the court. The Terps will be battle tested throughout the season and should be tough to contend with come ACC and NCAA Tournament time.

ary Williams' teams cast an image like the man himself. They are intense, exciting, hard working and always play with a will to win. On and off the court, the head coach and his teams have much in common, but work ethic binds them. It is that work ethic, that has made Maryland one of the top teams in the nation. It is that work ethic that has forged an average of 18 wins a season in Williams' six years at Maryland. Exciting, intense basketball has produced three post-season appearances, including consecutive trips to the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament. Williams is one of only five coaches to take teams to back-to-back regional semifinals in the past two years.

Maryland basketball has returned to the upper echelon of Division I.

Entering the 1995-96 season, the Terps have been ranked in 19 of the last 25 Associated Press and CNN/USA Today polls, including 16 straight. Maryland was ranked in the top 10 for ten consecutive weeks, peaking at No. 5. The No. 5 ranking was the highest since the 1984 season.

The 50-year old Williams enters the 1995-96 season with a 105-77 (.577) record at Maryland. In 17 years as a head coach, Williams' record stands at 312-205 (.603).

When Williams arrived at Maryland to take what he called "his dream job," he inherited a team that had won but nine games the year before, and finished in last place in the ACC.

Immediately, Williams put his stamp on the program. His 1990 team won 19 games and advanced to the second round of the National Invitation Tournament. The Terps came from nowhere to win six conference games and defeat Massachusetts in the NIT. In the process, Maryland improved its scoring average from 69.2 points per game to 83.2 points per game.

Maybe more important than the victories and post-season appearance was that the Terp faithful were coming back to Cole Field House. The average attendance at home games improved by more than 1,000 fans during Williams' first season. Last year, the Terps established a school record, as an average of nearly 14,000 fans poured into Cole each night the Williams led Terps took the floor.

Dean Smith, North Carolina (2)–1986, 1995 (Dougherty, 1; Stackhouse, 3) Jim Boeheim, Syracuse (2)–1990, 1991 (Coleman, 1; Owens, 3) Williams helped return Maryland to the upper echelon of college basketball by teaching his teams to play with relentless intensity. Williams' teams play the game from end line to end line for 40 minutes. That style reflects Williams' own dedication and commitment.

Williams, who gained his 300th career victory last season, is in his 18th season as a head coach on the collegiate level. Eleven times in his 17 years as a head coach. Williams has led teams to post-season play. American University, Boston College, Ohio State and Maryland - each stop on his head coaching resume - went to postseason action.

Williams is the only coach to direct programs in the three most powerful conferences in college basketball - The Atlantic Coast, The Big East and The Big Ten. During Williams' combined 13 years in those three conferences, the national champion has come from Williams' league six times (three in his five years in the ACC, twice in his four years in the Big East and once in his three vears in the Big Ten.)

A 1968 graduate of Maryland, Williams lettered as the Terps' starting point guard from 1964-67 under Head Coach Bud Millikan. He served as team captain during his senior season. It was as a player in the ACC that Williams developed his basketball philosophy. He studied the game under Millikan, and it was then that he developed his penchant for the fullcourt pressure defenses for which his teams are known. He learned his half court man-to-man defense from Millikan, who had learned from the legendary Hank Iba. The fast-breaking offense that Willams' teams employ is similar to the style Vic Bubas's Duke teams used when Williams was a player.

Williams began his coaching career as a graduate student at Maryland under a future boss, Tom Davis. Williams was Davis' assistant coach for the Maryland freshmen team during the 1969 season. The team finished with a 12-4 record.

After earning a degree in business, he continued his coaching career as an assistant at Woodrow Wilson High School in Camden, New Jersey. After one year, he took over as the head coach and guided his first team to a perfect 27-0 record and the state title. Williams has called that season "the ultimate; there wasn't another game to win."

Williams spent one more year at Wilson before accepting an invitation from Davis in 1972 to become an assistant at Lafavette College. While an assistant at Lafayette, Williams also served as the head soccer coach. In 1978, Williams accompanied Davis to Boston College. After one year there, Williams became the head coach at American University.

Williams immediately began making his mark. His 1981 squad set the still-standing school record for victories with a 24-6 mark, won the East Coast Conference Championship, and played in the NIT. Williams was named the District Coach of the Year. American returned to post-season play the next season as the Williams-led Eagles went 21-9 and played in the NIT for the second consecutive year. Only once prior to Williams' arrival had AU gone to a post-season tournament, and the Eagles have not returned to post-season play since. Williams' four-year record at AU was 72-42.

In 1983. Williams succeeded Davis at Boston College. He was once again an instant success, posting a 25-7 record, and leading the Eagles to the regular season championship of the Big East in his first season. Making his first appearance in the NCAA Tournament, Williams directed the Eagles to the "Sweet 16." He finished third in the balloting for National Coach of the Year, and was honored as the Eastern Coach of the Year by his peers. He went on to duplicate that NCAA Tournament success again in 1985. when he again led BC to the "Sweet 16."

In 1987, Williams accepted the head coaching job at Ohio State, becoming the tenth basketball coach in that school's illustrious history. He succeeded Eldon Miller and once again enjoyed success. In four years, the Buckeyes made three post-season appearances. His first squad defeated then No. 1 and unbeaten Iowa (coached by Tom Davis) in the regular season, in what would be the first of many giant-killings. During Williams' three year term at Ohio State, OSU defeated a second ranked Purdue team. perennial power Kansas and highly regarded Big Ten powers Michigan and Illinois. Each of Williams' three Ohio State teams advanced to post-season play, and he laid the groundwork for the highly successful teams that followed when he left Columbus for College Park.

In November of 1994, Williams signed a seven-year contract that he says will allow him to finish his coaching career at Maryland. It is the third contract that Williams has signed since his return to his alma mater on June 13, 1989.

Billy Hahr

uring his six years as an assistant coach under Gary Williams at Maryland, Billy Hahn has played a big part of the success of the Terrapin basketball program. His basketball expertise became evident last season as he guided Maryland to the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and to a victory at Duke's Cameron Indoor Stadium while the Terps' interim head coach for four games. His reputation as one of the finest recruiters in college basketball is far reaching as the Terps' recruiting classes have been regarded to be among the finest in the country since his arrival at Maryland. His ability to scout opponents has helped Maryland advance to the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament in each of the last two years and finish as the regular season co-champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1995.

Hahn drew nationwide praise as he guided the Terps to a 2-2 record as Maryland's interim head coach while Gary Williams recovered from pneumonia during the later stages of the 1995 season. He coached the Terps to a 94-92 victory over Duke, a 71-64 victory over Florida State in the first round of the ACC Tournament, into overtime versus No. 2 ranked North Carolina in the ACC tournament semifinals and versus Virginia. Maryland's victory over Duke clinched a tie for the ACC regular season championship.

Each of those four games put Hahn into a spotlight which he had never experienced before. The victories over Duke and Florida State and the overtime loss to North Carolina were nationally televised by ESPN and the game versus Virginia was shown regionally on ABC.

His hard work and dedication as a recruiter has also propelled him into the spotlight. Hahn was recently named one of the top 10 recruiters in the Eastern United States by Eastern Basketball Magazine. Said EB: "The former head coach at Ohio University helped corral the present senior class which has been the backbone of Maryland's reversal of fortunes in the past two seasons."

His recruiting prowess is reflected by the Terps' current roster. Hahn's national and local recruiting knowledge helped in the superior evaluation of current seniors Exree Hipp, Mario Lucas, Johnny Rhodes and Duane Simpkins - four players who have helped Maryland return to the Top-10 and the national spotlight. Most recently, he won intense recruiting battles which convinced current Terp freshmen Laron Profit and Terrell Stokes to attend Maryland. Profit was labeled as "one of the top high school players in the country" while Stokes earned the title as the "No. 1 pure point guard in the nation" by many recruiting experts.

Hahn became a member of the Maryland coaching staff in July of 1989, immediately after Gary Williams became the Terps' head coach.

Prior to joining the Terps' staff. Hahn was the head coach at Ohio University for three years. He compiled a 42-45 record with only one losing season. He led Ohio to the Mid-American Conference Tournament Championship game in 1988. He recruited and coached Paul Graham, the MAC Player of the Year in 1989. During his head coaching tenure, 100 percent of his senior players earned their degrees.

Prior to his appointment as head coach, Hahn was an assistant coach at Ohio for six seasons under Danny Nee. He served as the Bobcats' primary recruiter during that span and landed the school's alltime leading rebounder and the all-time leading assist holder. Hahn recruited and coached two future NBA draft choices and the 1985 MAC Player of the Year. While Hahn was an assistant, Ohio posted a school record four 20 win seasons, won two conference tournament championships, earned two trips to the NCAA Tournament and played in one NIT.

Hahn began his college coaching career immediately following his playing days at Maryland. His first stop came at Morris Harvey College in West Virginia (1975-76). He moved on to Davidson College (1976-77) and the University of Rhode Island (1977-80) before going to Ohio. At each of his first three coaching stops, he successfully recruited and coached future NBA draft choices. While at Rhode Island, he recruited future New York Knicks star Sly Williams and four other NBA selections.

Hahn is a 1975 alumnus of the University of Maryland. While an undergraduate here, he was a threeyear varsity letter winner on three of the best basketball teams Maryland has ever fielded. He was a freshman in 1971-72 when the Terps won the National Invitation Tournament, he was a key reserve on the team that lost what is considered to be the greatest game in ACC history -Maryland's 103-100 overtime loss to N.C. State in 1974 - and was captain of the team his senior year when the Terps won the ACC regular season championship and advanced to the Midwest Regional Finals of the NCAA Tournament.

Hahn is the only player in Maryland basketball history to appear in the NCAA Tournament as both a player and a coach. As a player, he appeared in two NCAA Tournament regional finals and now as a coach, he has appeared in two regional semifinals.

He earned the Alvin

Aubinoe Award for "Greatest Career Contribution" following his senior season. Maryland fashioned a 70-19 overall record during his playing career. The Terps finished with a 24-5 record as it won the ACC regular season championship his senior season.

Hahn has become a very accomplished seminar and banquet speaker. He has delivered numerous motivational speeches to area businesses and at many graduations.

Hahn and his wife Kathi were married on June 25, 1976; they have two children, a son Matthew (17) and daughter Ashley (12).

Hahn received his bachelor's degree from Maryland in distributive education in 1975

In this era of reduced contact between college coach and prospective player, the role of an assistant coach in the recruiting process has never been more significant. Generally, it is the assistant coach who makes the initial contact and works on developing a rapport with the youngster.

there are more than ten aides doing exceptional work in the area of player procurement. However, these are the names we hear mentioned most often when it comes to the standouts.

Hahn found himself in the glare of the spotlight in the latter stages of the 1994-95 season when he assumed command of the Terrapins' East Regional bench when Gary Williams was ill. He managed to keep the ship afloat until the boss returned, although bench coaching is not Hahn's strength. On the recruiting trail, Hahn is a standout. The former head coach at Ohio University helped corral the present senior class which has been the backbone of Maryland's reversal of fortunes in the past two seasons.

Art Perry

rt Perry, one of the foremost recruiters in the nation, is in his sixth season at Maryland. He recently received mention by Sports Illustrated as one of the country's top recruiters. Perry's extensive recruiting roots produced an early knowledge of Joe Smith, which allowed for an early evaluation of the superstar by head coach Gary Williams. Smith was named the 1995 Collegiate Player of the Year and was the No. 1 overall selection in the 1995 NBA draft. In only six years at Maryland, Perry has established a dynamic recruiting reputation throughout the nation. Perry's basketball knowledge and charismatic approach to recruiting have allowed Maryland to attract great talent to the thriving Terrapin program. Perry has worked tirelessly since his arrival in 1990 to bring the top talent to Maryland. His efforts have been rewarded as the Terps have landed three of the top recruiting classes in the country during his tenure. A number of his prized recruiting efforts have been starters as Maryland has advanced to the "Sweet 16" rounds of each of the last two NCAA Tournaments.

Perry proved his extensive basketball knowledge last season as he helped coach the Terps through four games during which Williams was sidelined with pneumonia. Perry's scouting and coaching abilities helped Maryland defeat Duke to clinch a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship and into the semifinals of the ACC Tournament.

Aside from his on and off-campus recruiting efforts, Perry serves as one of the Terps' chief opponent scouts. He is also actively involved in the preparation of daily practice plans and all aspects of on-court coaching.

Perry established his reputation as one of the top recruiters at Rutgers University during the mid-1970s. While at Rutgers, he served under former Terp star Tom Young. During his first year at Rutgers, Perry recruited James Bailey and Eddie Jordan, two players who became All-Americans and who later excelled in the NBA. Both Bailey and Jordan helped Rutgers advance to the NCAA Final Four in 1976 with a spectacular 31-2 record. Jordan went on to win an NBA Championship with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1982 and both went on to play in the NBA for several years.

More than 20 of the student-athletes Perry has recruited have been drafted into the pros, and many of them have enjoyed prosperous careers. In addition to attracting Bailey and Jordan to Rutgers, Perry continued his successful recruiting abilities at the school by landing Roy Hinson and John Battle, two more players who earned All-American Honors during their collegiate careers.

Perry followed Young to Old Dominion in 1985 and took with him his exceptional recruiting abilities. While at Old Dominion, Perry recruited Chris Gatling, a two-time Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year and NBA first round draft choice of the Golden State Warriors.

Perry-recruited players have played in an incredible eight NCAA Tournaments and six National Invitation
Tournaments. He has accompanied Maryland to the last two NCAA Tournaments and the NIT in 1991.

Perry, a Washington, D.C. native, lettered in three sports (basketball, football and track) at Eastern High School. During his career, the Ramblers won city championships in basketball and football.

Following a four-year term in the Air Force as a crew chief for jet fighters and four-time selection to the All-Air Force basketball team, Perry returned to the Washington, D.C. area and enrolled at American University He was a two-year varsity letter winner who averaged 8.5 points and 8.8 rebounds during his short career. His career was cut short by a knee injury just prior to the beginning of American, he was a teammate of future NBA star

Kermit Washington.

Perry quickly began his college coaching career as he joined Tom Young's staff at Rutgers as a student assistant for the 1973-74 season. He was a member of Young's staff that directed Rutgers to the NCAA Tournament and the NIT twice each. He was also a member of the 1976 Rutgers staff that helped coach the Scarlet Knights to a 31-0 regular season record and into the NCAA "Final Four." Following a brief two-year stay at Connecticut, he returned to Rutgers where he helped coach two more NCAA Tournament teams and one that played in the NIT.

In 1985, he moved with Young to Old Dominion University where he helped direct the Monarchs to the NCAA Tournament in only his first season. The team also played in the 1988 NIT.

immy Patsos begins his fifth season as an assistant coach at the University of Maryland. He was selected from an outstanding national pool of candidates and joined Gary Williams' staff in 1991. Since his arrival, he has played a pivotal role in the emergence of the Maryland basketball team as a national power. Patsos' numerous responsibilities center around opponent scouting and the academic development of all of Maryland's players. He coordinates Maryland's film exchange program and spends countless hours breaking down game films of the Terps and their opponents. His role as an academic mentor has proven prosperous, as the team's overall academic performance has improved since Patsos accepted the challenging assignment. He works closely with the academic support unit of the athletic department and many of the professors on campus.

Patsos also serves as the director of the highly respected and successful Gary Williams' summer basketball camp. In that role, Patsos coordinates counselor management, facility and participant scheduling, housing, meals and guest speakers.

Patsos joined the staff as a volunteer assistant during the 1991-92 season. During his first season, he was exposed to the coaching and administration side of college basketball, which allowed him to gain a greater understanding of the game. His work ethic and relationship with the Terps' players allowed him to gain a full-time spot on the staff for the 1992-93 season.

Prior to his appointment to Gary Williams' staff at Maryland, Patsos was the assistant coach at Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C. He helped Carroll to a 21-8 record and a national ranking of No. 6 during his first season. The team lost to the famed DeMatha Catholic High School in the city playoffs to end their stellar season. Patsos was involved in the maturation of Charles Harrison (Wake Forest) and Lawrence Moten (Syracuse), both who became stars on the collegiate level.

A native of Boston, Mass., Patsos played three years of varsity basketball at Catholic University in Washington, D.C. He served as team captain his senior season. He earned his bachelor's degree in History from Catholic in 1989.

ing all aspects of the budget. During his tenure at Maryland, he has overseen the rapid and tremendous growth of revenue derived by the basketball program. He was responsible for managing the record $5.4 million income during the 1994-95 season. Cole Field House was sold out for every game during the 1994-95 season and a new attendance record was established. Under Sauer's watchful eye, the baskethall team exceeded all financial goals.

He handles the housing arrangements, dining service contracts and all business involving the student-athletes campus accounts.

Sauer is responsible for the scheduling and contractual arrangements for all non-conference games. In addition, he works with ACC officials in coordinating the Terps' conference schedule.

In addition, he coordinates all travel, and makes detailed arrangements and preparations for away, neutral and tournament games. Among his many responsibilities as the Terps' travel coordinator are air and ground travel, hotel arrangements and meal planning. He also provides assistance in the areas of academic support, player relations, summer camp and on-campus recruiting.

Sauer's work with corporate sponsors and corporations has also generated interest to the Terp basketball program throughout the Washington D.C./Baltimore metropolitan area.

During the 1988-89 athletic year, Sauer was the Assistant Athletic Director for Development and Communications at the University of Maryland–Baltimore County immediately prior to coming to Maryland. In that capacity, he coordinated all marketing efforts for the burgeoning UMBC program.

He orchestrated the revamping of UMBC's corporate sponsorships which greatly enhanced the visibility of the university's athletic department. His efforts helped UMBC to enjoy its' best year ever financially. Of the many benefits enjoyed by the school were four Retriever basketball games on television in 1989–a first in the history of UMBC athletics. The school set single game and season attendance records during the 1988-89 season.

Sauer served as a consultant for the Bermuda Basketball Association this past summer. He assisted the association in the improvement of all aspects of their program

Sauer is a graduate of the University of Maryland and the University of Nebraska School of Law. He earned his bachelor's degree in government and politics from Maryland in 1981 and his Juris Doctor degree from Nebraska in 1987.

J.J. BUSH

Basketball Trainer

J.J. Bush returns for the 1995-96 season as athletictrainer for Gary Williams and the Terps' men's basketball program. Bush is in his fourth season working with the men's basketball program. This is his third stint working with the program as he was the team's trainer from 1972-1976.

As the trainer for the basketball team, Bush coordinates the daily medical treatments for all the players and supervises all rehabilitative efforts in the advent of injury.

Bush came to the University in 1972, as an assistant trainer. He began working immediately with the men's basketball team. The team won the regular season championship of the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1975 and averaged 23 wins a season during his tenure.

Beginning with the 1976 football season, Bush worked with the Terp football team until 1992, when he returned to Cole Field House and the basketball team. Bush was the head trainer for the football team as it claimed 4 ACC Championships and played in 9 bowl games.

In addition to his training duties, Bush also teaches a kinesiology course on preventative training techniques for the University, and is a frequent lecturer throughout the Mid-Atlantic region of the United States on the latest training methods.

Bush is active in the National Athletic Trainers Association, and he worked extensively within the organization on improving athletic training methods. A native of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Bush, 49.

Much of the non-orthopedic medical care the Maryland student-athletes receive is performed on campus at the University's Student Health Center. Dr. Sacared Bodison and Dr. Stephen Fahey are the two full-time Health Center physicians who specialize in sports medicine.

Both Drs. Bodison and Fahey are available to treat student-athletes 24 hours a day, and both have scheduled hours in which they staff the University Training rooms and consult with student-athletes on a walk-up basis.

Dr. Bodison, in her 16th year as the Health Center's assistant director for medical services, has been coordinator of sports medicine since 1982. She is a graduate of the University of Buffalo and received her medical degree fron SUNY Down State Medical School in 1975.

Dr. Bodison and her husband have two children, Sasha, 15, and Brenton, 11. The family resides in Silver Spring.

Dr. Fahey is an emergency physician who is in his eighth year working with the athletic department. He received his undergraduate degree from Dartmouth, where he competed in rugby and freshmen basketball. He received his medical degree from Harvard in 1975.

graduated from Florida State University in 1969. He and his wife Gina have two sons; Brandon (a freshman at UMCP) and Jordan, 12.

DR. STAN LAVINE

Team Physician

Dr. Stan Lavine, head orthopedic surgeon for Maryland's 24 intercollegiate teams has roots that grow deep into Maryland's red clay. He first served the Terps as a football letterman in 1948 and 1949 and has since served the Terps from the medical profession.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., where he attended Schenly High School, Dr. Levine matriculated at Maryland to prepare for his medical career. He played football initially for Clark Shaughnessy, one of football's great innovators. By the time of his 1950 graduation, he had led Maryland, under Head Coach Jim Tatum, to a 9-1 season and a 20-7 victory over Missouri in the Gator Bowl as the team's quarterback. Following his graduation from Maryland's medical school, he interned at hospitals in Philadelphia and Cleveland, served two years in the Air Force, and began his orthopedic work with Maryland's athletic teams. Dr. Lavine attends all home basketball games and some road games and is on call at all times for the student-athletes playing on the University's 24 athletic teams. He was team physician for the Washington Redskins, and was there for two Super Bowls. He was also the team physician for the Washington Bullets when they won the NBA Championship in 1980.

n All-America Candidate as one of the top returning forwards in the Atlantic Coast Conference...A two-time Honorable Mention All-ACC selection, earning the distinction as both a freshman and a sophomore...One of only three current juniors to have earned All-ACC mention in each of the past two years, joining Wake Forest's Tim Duncan and Duke's Jeff Capel...Only three other would be juniors who earned All-ACC accolades in each of their first two years, Maryland's Joe Smith and North Carolina's Jerry Stackhouse and Rasheed Wallace were all selected among the first four picks of the 1995 NBA Draft...Will step to the forefront and be a leader for the Terps both on and off the court...Consistently outperforms bigger players, utilizing his tremendous quickness...It's rare that Booth faces someone smaller than himself and rarer still that he ever backs down...During the first two years of his collegiate career, Booth rountinely tangled with the likes of Stackhouse, Georgia Tech's James Forrest, Wake Forest's Travis Banks, Florida State's 6-11 Corey Lewis and Duke's 6-10 Erik Meek...Has been invaluable to the Terps during the first two years of his career averaging 10.8 points and 6.7 rebounds...His 6.7 rebounds is second in the last two year's on the squad to only Joe Smith, the 1995 consensus National Player of the Year... His 37 rebounds in last year's NCAA Tournament is the second best ever single NCAA Tournament effort behind only Joe Smith's 39 also in last years NCAA Tournament...His 15 rebounds versus Gonzaga in the first round of last year's NCAA Tournament is the fourth best ever single game NCAA Tournament effort by a Maryland player...As A Sophomore: Earned Honorable Mention All-ACC honors for the second consecutive season...Improved his game tremendously and in all phases...Enjoyed one of the top all-around seasons by a Maryland sophomore in school history...His total points, rebound average, assists, steals, blocked shots, and free throws made were all among the top 15 efforts by any sophomore in school history. His 43 steals was the sixth best single season effort by any Terp sophomore...Lifted his game as high as he had during his first two years with a rousing performance versus Duke on January 29 in Cole Field House... Booth scored a career high 22 points, including the then eighth-ranked Terps' final eight points of the game, to lead Maryland past Duke, 74-72...His 22 points included a dunk after a spin move on the right baseline (for the winning basket) to give Maryland a two point-lead with 1:03 remaining...

foul trouble versus the Yellow Jackets, as he picked up his fourth foul with 10:32 remaining in the second half...Booth played nearly eight minutes the rest of the way and scored six points as the Terps gained the all-important first ACC road victory of the season...Banged against North Carolina's All-American and NBA first round draft choice Eric Montross and Kevin Salvadori twice and more than held his ground... Scored in double figures in 15 of Maryland's 30 games and recorded three double/doubles...Showing his importance, the Terps were 9-5 when Booth stayed out of foul trouble and played 30 or more minutes during a game, and when he played less than 25 minutes a game the Terps were 3-4... At Dunbar: Was considered to be among the nation's top-25 recruits when he signed with the Terps during the spring signing period in 1993...Was a McDonald's High School All-American and played in the National All-American game in Memphis, Tenn... Was a member of the Capital All-Star team in the Capital All-

Star game played in his future home of Cole Field House his senior season...Earned second team All-America honors from Parade Magazine... Chosen Mr. Basketball in the city of Baltimore as a senior...Selected the Player of the Year in the State of Maryland and the Baltimore Sun area Player of the Year following his senior season... Averaged 21 points, 10 rebounds and four assists as a senior in leading Dunbar to the Maryland "A" Conference State Championship...Earned All-Metropolitan honors by the Baltimore Sun following both his junior and senior years...As a junior, he averaged 19.5 points, 11.8 rebounds and four assists in leading Dunbar to a 29-0 record, the No. 1 national ranking in USA Today Newspaper and the mythical national championship...His high school coach was Pete Pompey... Personal: Born October 9, 1974...His full name is Keith Eugene Booth...His nickname is Turk...He is the first cousin of University of Massachusetts senior Donta Bright.

solid forward who worked himself into the regular rotation as a freshman and played in 30 of Maryland's 34 games exhibiting his ability to compete in the rigors of the ACC...His slender build disguises his exceptional rebounding capabilities...Finished as the only Terp with more rebounds (46) than total points (43) and fouls (34) in 1995...Enjoyed an extraordinary game versus Gonzaga in the Terps' first round NCAA Tournament victory...Scored nine points and grabbed two rebounds in only seven minutes of play while spelling All-American center Joe Smith who was in early foul trouble...Was a teammate of current Terp starter and All-

American candidate Keith Booth at Dunbar during his junior season... As a Freshman: Saved his best for the most important part of the season as he scored nine points and grabbed two rebounds in helping lift Maryland past Gonzaga, 87-63, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament...Stepped up his game in the second half versus the Bulldogs with nine points on a perfect three of three shooting from the field and a season's best three of four shooting from the free throw line...During a span of 3:19 in the later stages of the second half, Elliott scored seven points during a 21-8 run that helped extend the Terps' lead from eight points to 21...During the spree, Elliott scored on two lay-ups, was three of four from the line and grabbed two rebounds...Averaged 4.5 points in two NCAA Tournament games...Also played well on the road as Maryland won at N.C. State for the first time since the 1992-93 season...Sparked the Terps to a 12-9 second half run to increase an 11-point Terp lead and help give Head Coach Gary Williams his 300th career victory...Said Williams following the victory: "I thought the key section of the game was (Mario Lucas) and Rodney Elliott playing well together inside when Smith and Booth were sitting on the bench. We didn't allow N.C. State to make a run, which most people, including myself, thought they might have."...Another strong performance came versus No. 1 North Carolina in Chapel Hill...Played well once again as Smith was strapped with foul trouble...He scored two points, grabbed two rebounds, dished out one assist and had one steal as the Terps nearly recovered from an early second half deficit to claim victory...Scored his first career basket on his first career attempt in Maryland's first game of the season, a 95-65 victory over Chaminade in the opening round of the Maui Invitational...His first career appearance came versus Chaminade as he was substituted in for fellow

Baltimorian and Dunbar teammate Keith Booth in the first half of the nationally televised game...Seven points and five rebounds came as Maryland defeated Towson State at home... His career high of eight rebounds came versus Morgan State in Cole Field House...Also gained his career high of three steals and 18 minutes played versus Morgan... Back-to-back-to-back strong games versus Towson State, Morgan State and La Salle netted him seven, six and six points collectively...Scored his ACC season high of three points versus Wake Forest and N.C. State... Maryland was a perfect 10-0 in games that Elliott scored at least one point...His career high of two assists came three times while his single game best of one block came five different times, including one versus Wake Forest and another versus Cincinnati in a game televised nationally by ABC ... Nailed his first career three-pointer versus N.C. State at Cole Field House...At Dunbar: A First Team All-Metropolitan Selection by the Baltimore Sun following a sensational senior season that saw him vault himself into the national recruiting spotlight... Also an All-Baltimore City/County selection by the Baltimore Sun...lt was during his senior season that Elliott forced the scouts to notice him and many Division 1 scholarship offers began to roll in...Averaged 12 points, 13 rebounds and 5.6 assists as a senior...Led nationally ranked Dunbar in rebounding and shot 64 percent from the field...Showed his shooting versatility as he hit 24 three-point shots during his senior season...Guided the Poets to the 1994 Class "A" State Championship with two victories, the state semifinals and finals, coming in his future home of Cole Field House... Scored 18 points and grabbed 15 rebounds in the semifinal win and scored a season high 29 points and grabbed 15 more rebounds

Player honors in leading the Terps past Gonzaga in the first round of the NCAA Tournament... Picked up the Terps with a 15 point, five rebound, three assist effort as Sophomore Sensation Joe Smith was shackled with four fouls early in the second half... Was in top form in leading Maryland to the exciting, historic victory over Duke in Cole Field House... Scored an ACC regular season high of 21 points on eight of 16 shooting from the field including a spectacular career high of five of six from the three point arc...Just as spectacular as his shooting from the field were his seven rebounds, four assists, three steals and one blocked shot... Scored 11 points in an awe inspiring 20-2 Terp run during a five minute stretch in the first half as the Terps recovered from a 28-19 deficit to take a 39-30 lead approaching half-time...In the 2:30 stretch from the 7:19 mark to the 4:42 mark, Hipp scored 11 points and grabbed one steal...Helped keep the Terps up in the second half with another important three pointer after the Blue Devils had closed the gap to two with 8:26 remaining and added a tip-in as the Devils once again closed the Terps' lead to two with 5:53 remaining... Also played well as the Terps enjoyed one of the finest ever nights in the history of Maryland basketball in defeating No. 1 North Carolina, 86-73, in a wild, oversold Cold Field House...Scored 12 points, including four in the final four minutes to help seal the Terps' momentous victory...Helped the Terps keep their second half lead with a crucial, lead-extending lay up as the Tar Heels began one of their patented runs...A Hipp lay-up choked a North Carolina spurt as the Terps' lead had been cut to five with his lay up, making the score 70-63 with 4:26 remaining...A strong outing of 25 points versus Arizona State on ESPN nearly brought the Terps to victory in the championship game of the Maui Invitational...Was exceptional versus North Carolina in the semifinal round of the ACC Tournament...Scored 23 points (11 in the second half) and grabbed six rebounds in the classic ACC Tournament game... Brought the Terps to within a hair of the lead with a three-pointer with 3:37 making the score 78-75 in favor of the Tar Heels... Scored one bucket in the overtime, cutting the Tar Heel lead to 90-89...Scored a game high 22 points versus Loyola (Md.) in Cole Field House... Scored double figures in a career high 24 games...As a Sophomore: Earned Honorable mention All-ACC honors...His 13.2 points per game was good for the 13th hest scoring average in the ACC...Finished seventh in the ACC in field goal shooting percentage at 47.2%... May have been at his best versus No. 9 Massachusetts in the second round of the NCAA Tournament...He scored a personal NCAA Tournament career best of 19 points on eight of 11 shooting from the field in 35 minutes of play in helping the Terps to the monumental victory...It was Hipp's jumper that gave Maryland a 66-65 lead with 10:39 remaining in the second half, a lead that the Terps did not relinquish on their way to the victory over the second seeded Minutemen...His earlier three pointer from the right side of the top of the key gave Maryland its first lead of the second half, 59-57, with 13:32 remaining...He scored 13 points in the incredible second half comeback victory that launched the Terps into the "Sweet 16" for the first time since 1985...His career high of 35 points came versus Towson State at the Baltimore Arena on December 23, 1993...He shot a career best 14-16 (87.5%) from the field -

n All-Atlantic Coast Conference Candidate as the top returning sixth man in the conference...Was the most productive "sixth man" in the ACC last year as he averaged more points (0.46) and more rebounds (0.24) per minute than any other conference sixth man...Only Michael Maddox of Georgia Tech, 9.1 points per game, had a higher scoring average than Lucas's 7.1 scoring average... A three-year regular in the Terrapin lineup, Lucas has played in 87 of 92 games during his career, including 69 consecutive games dating back to February 27, 1993...His scoring and rebounding averages, minutes played and confidence have all increased by leaps and bounds throughout his career...Can shoot the three-point shot from the outside and play with his back to the basket with tremendous effectiveness...Has become Maryland's "Mr. Clutch" from behind the three-point arc...An incredible four of his career three point shots have helped Maryland recover from a deficit, stem the tide, and win a game that it was seemingly out of...Is an outstanding athlete who will be called upon to help fill the void at the center position... As a Junior: Enjoyed his most productive season, averaging a career best 7.1 points, 3.7 rebounds and 15.4 minutes player per game... Established career bests in field goals made (87), field goals attempted (207), field goal percentage (42.0), three point field goals made (22), three point field goals attempted (57), free throws made (45), free throws attempted (78), total points (241), points per game (7.1), defensive rebounds (78), total rebounds (125), rebounds per game (3.7), assists (23) and minutes played (522) while tying his personal bests for offensive rebounds (47) and steals (14)...Lucas's three-point shooting accomplishments have become legendary...Began his lore as a sophomore in the 1994 NCAA Tournament as the Terps trailed Massachusetts 54-44 with 16:35 remaining in the second half...Lucas hit from the right side to ignite a 17-7 Terp run leading to a 95-87 Terp victory...As a junior, the Terps trailed North Carolina 34-26 with 5:25 remaining in the first half...Lucas hits from the top of the key to ignite a 13-4 Terp run leading to an 86-73 Terp victory...Scored a career high 18 points versus La Salle on a perfect shooting night of three for three from three point range...In the 7-Up Shootout at the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, the Terps trailed Cincinnati 20-12 with 10:00 minutes remaining in the first half...Lucas hit from the far right side to ignite a 14-0 Terp run leading to a 74-72 Terp victory... tous Terp victories in recent memory, Lucas hit from the top of the key to ignite a 14-12 Terps' run with Maryland trailing Duke 55-53 with 13:44 remaining in the second half leading to a 94-92 Terp victory...The 18 points by Lucas tied him for season high scoring honors in a single game by a bench player...Had five games of multiple three point shots made, a career best and third best on the team behind Johnny Rhodes and Duane Simpkins... Averaged 6.2 points and 3.6 rebounds versus the Terps' 11 ranked opponents and 5.5 points and

3.0 rebounds as Maryland split two regular season games versus No. 1 North Carolina...Best all-around scoring/rebounding game came versus La Salle with 18 points and eight rebounds...His 18 points versus La Salle was the third of three consecutive double figure scoring games, he also scored 11 points versus Towson State and 10 versus Morgan State for the only back-to-back-to-back double figure scoring games of his career...Scored 12 points versus Florida State as the Terps won in Cole Field House...The 12 point performance was his sec-

N.C. State in Cole Field House during his sophomore season...A strong game of 14 points versus the powerful inside game of Colgate on six of eight shooting from the field... Played in double figure minutes in 31 of the Terps' 34 games including all three NCAA Tournament games and both ACC Tournament games... Scored seven or more points 19 times...The leader off the bench which averaged a combined 45 minutes per game as compared to Lucas's sophomore season when the bench played only an average of 30 minutes per game...Hit on 11 of his first 19 three-point shot attempts for a 57.9 success rate - highest on the team after the first 11 games... As a Sophomore: Was as bright a star as Maryland had in any one game during the 1994 season... Sparked an incredible momentum turning rally versus Massachusetts sending the Terps to the upset victory and into the "Sweet 16" round of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1985... Came off the bench to replace Keith Booth, who was charged with his fourth foul late in the first half, and helped Maryland to the extraordinary 95-87 victory at Kansas Coliseum...After going scoreless in the first half, Lucas started the second half and set forth a glorious 20 minutes of basketball...Lucas got himself assists in only 14 minutes of play versus the Wolfpack... Came off the bench to score 14 points in only 21 minutes of play versus Hofstra in the first round of the Abdow's Hall of Fame Classic in Springfield, Mass...Double figures in ACC play came on the road versus Virginia (10 points), and in Cole Field House versus Wake Forest (10 points) and N.C. State...He finished his second collegiate season as one of Maryland's most effective rebounders with 107 total rebounds in 481 total minutes of play... Enjoyed a strong season as he played in more games, played more minutes, scored more points, grabbed more rebounds, dished off more assists and blocked more shots than he did during his entire inaugural season at Maryland...Was one of five Terps to finish with 100 or more rebounds...Saw his minutes increase from 12 per game his freshman season to 16 as a sophomore...With the increased minutes came increased points (5.4 points per game as a sophomore as compared to 3.5 points per game as a freshman)... With Lucas in the lineup as a sophomore, Maryland was a strong team...When Lucas scored at least 10 points, Maryland was 4-1 with its only loss coming versus No. 2 Duke...When he played at least 20 minutes, Maryland had a 6-3 record...Averaged 8.2 points in seven games played as a member of the ACC All-Star team which traveled to South America...Scored a personal best of 13 points versus Uruguay on five of 11 shooting from the field and grabbed five rebounds in that game... As a Freshman: Played in 23 games, starting two consecutive games (Florida State and Wake Forest on consecutive dates)... Averaged 3.5 points and 2.3 rebounds a game... Began the season on fire as he hit five of six shots from the field to score 11 points versus West Virginia...Closed the regular season on fire as he scored nine points and grabbed a career high 10 rebounds at Virginia... Another outstanding effort came versus North Carolina in Cole Field

Why Maryland's Starting Backcourt of Duane Simpkins and Johnny Rhodes is One of The Best in the Nation

The pair has been the starting back-court in College Park for 64 consecutive games. During that time, Maryland has advanced to the NCAA Tournament "Sweet 16" twice, finished in first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference standings once and won nearly 70 percent of its games.

The pair dished out nearly 8.5 assists and averaged over 3.3 steals per game during the 1994-95 season. Simpkins and Rhodes averaged more assists and steals last season than any other returning backcourt in the ACC.

Johnny Rhodes enters his senior season on pace to shatter the ACC record for career steals. He enters the 1995-96 season with 234 career steals and a 2.54 steals per game average. In addition, he is one of only three players in ACC history to have more career steals than career turnovers. Should he lead the Terps in steals during his senior season, he will become only the third player in ACC history to lead his team in steals during each of his four varsity seasons.

Duane Simpkins is one of only four point guards in Maryland history to have averaged in double figure scoring and at least 4.5 assists per game in two consecutive seasons. His averages of 11.1 points and 4.7 assists during his back-to-back sophomore and junior seasons place him in select Terp company with All-American John Lucas, first round NBA 1st round draft choice Brad Davis and Kevin McLinton. Simpkins is one of only two returning players in the ACC to have ranked among the top six in assist leaders in both of the last two years.

Johnny Rhodes returns as the most versatile player in the league for the 1996 season and is the only player in school history to have at least 500 rebounds, 300 assists, 200 steals and 100 three point shots made during his career

EASONS

Duane Simpkins finished tied for second in the ACC in free throw shooting during the 1995 season, hitting on 84.1% of his free throws and enters his senior season No. 3 on Maryland's all-time free throw shooting percentage list at exactly 80%. Simpkins enters the 1996 season looking to become only one of six players in school history to shoot 70 percent or better from the free throw line in each of his four varsity seasons.

Johnny Rhodes is one of two returning 1,000 point career scorers in the Atlantic Coast Conference. As a junior, he became the 29th player in school history to surpass the 1,000 career point plateau and became only the 19th player in school history to surpass the combination milestone of 1,000 career points and 500 career rebounds.

Duane Simpkins averages 11.8 points and 5.1 assists in 21 career games versus teams ranked in the nation's Top-25. In three career games versus the nation's No. 1 ranked team, Simpkins averages 13.3 points and 5.3 assists. In six NCAA Tournament games, he averages 12.7 points and 5.7 assists. His career high of 11 assists came versus St. Louis in his first ever NCAA Tournament game.

Johnny Rhodes averages 13.0 points and 2.6 steals in 21 career games versus teams ranked in the nation's Top-25. In three career games versus the nation's No. 1 ranked team, Rhodes averages 16 points and one steal. In six NCAA Tournament games, Rhodes averages 13.3 points and 1.7 steals. His career high of 10 assists came versus No. 2 seed Massachusetts in the 1994 NCAA Tournament.

By seasons end Duane Simpkins and Johnny Rhodes will be considered one of the best backcourts in school history. The present duo compares favorably to the Terps best ever backcourt tandem of John Lucas and Maurice Howard. In 57 games during the 1974 and 1975 seasons, Lucas and Howard combined to average 30.8 points, 5.2 assists, led the Terps to a 46-11 record, one ACC regular season championship and one trip to the NCAA Tournament. In 64 career games during the 1994 and 1995 seasons, Simpkins and Rhodes have combined to average 24.4 points. 8.5 assists, have led the Terps to a 44-20 record, one ACC regular season championship and two trips to the NCAA Tournament.

e's only been playing three years. But he's big and powerful and has something that you can't teach - size. I think Maryland's getting a valuable addition," said recruiting expert Bob Gibbons soon after Ekezie signed his National Letter of Intent during the early signing period in November...The most likely heir to 1995 National Player of the Year Joe Smith's throne at the center position...His strength and rebounding skills caught the eyes of many Division I recruiters as his senior season progressed...Was considered by many recruiting services as one of the top three big men in the Eastern part of the U.S....Made his Cole Field House debut in the 1995 Capital Classic as a member of the U.S. All-Star Team...Scored four points and grabbed six rebounds in only 12 minutes of play...Was among the game leaders in rebounds per minute...Showed his soft shooting touch during the game as he hit his only field goal attempt and was a perfect two-of-two from the free throw line... Averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds as a junior for Worcester Academy which dominated a schedule peppered with junior varsity Ivy League foes...His height, strength and wide body make him almost impossible to defend in the interior...Worked during his senior season on perfecting his low post moves and developing a hook shot...Is extremely coachable and the Terp coaching staff sees his best years of basketball being in the future...Played on the championship team at the 1995 Boston Shootout, one of the top AAU Tournaments in the country... Averaged 7.7 points and four rebounds including 11 points, five rebounds and two blocked shots in the championship game... A native of Nigeria and an Honor Student at Worcester Academy...Came to the United States in 1993 to complete his high school education at the urging of his father who is an oil company executive who travels to the United States on business several times during the year...Became comfortable with the University of Maryland after exploring his recruiting options during the summer of 1994...Found that Maryland was one of nine institutions in the country that offers the computer engineering business degree that he is seeking...Personal: Born August 22, 1975...Full name is Obinna Ralph Ekezie.

e gets up very well, but even more important is the fact that he is a very quick leaper. He gets off the floor so fast that you better be paying attention or you might miss something. You expect his kind of quickness from a guy 6-foot," said high school talent scout Dan Painter...A member of the U.S. team in the Capital Classic All-Star game at Cole Field House who was in contention for Most Valuable Player honors until the final buzzer...Was among the teams' leading scorers with 12 points, eight rebounds, five assists and three steals in 26 minutes of play...Hit on five-of 11 field goals and was second on the team in rebounds...Will see a lot of time off the bench and can play as many as three positions well... Is a definite scoring threat who is a great leaper and creator, who is not afraid to go inside despite his slender frame... A perimeter player who can create off the dribble and finish with either hand in traffic...The Gatorade Player of the Year in the State of Delaware for his senior season...Scored a school record 1,500 points during his career...Moved from point guard to wing guard midway through his senior season and enjoyed a marked improvement in his game... Averaged nearly 30 points a game over the last 10 games of his senior season and finished the season averaging 25.8 points per game, 8.9 rebounds and 4.6 assists...Also blocked 60 shots and was credited with 80 steals during the season...Led Cesar Rodney to the state championship semifinals as he averaged 34 points per game in the Riders' two first round games...Scored 28 points and was named the Most Valuable Player of the Delaware State High School All-Star game following his senior season...Considered to be a Top 50 national prospect following his senior season, he signed on the first day of the fall signing period in November... Caught the eye of many of the top flight Division I schools as he averaged 22 points and eight rebounds as a junior and was a standout performer at the Nike Camp during the Summer of 1994...A two-time All-Henlopen Conference selection, his junior and senior years...First played in Cole Field House during the Charlie Weber AAU Tournament in September of his senior season...An honor student who took college and advanced courses throughout his prep career and scored 1,010 on his first try at the SAT... Often likened to former Terp All-American Walt Williams...Played with the D.C. Players - the area's top AAU team last summer...Personal: Born August 5, 1977...Full name is Laron Bronta Profit.

ithout question, Terrell Stokes is the No. 1 pure point guard in the nation. If you want the ultimate point guard, you want Stokes," said recruiting expert Bob Gibbons during the evaluation period for high school seniors...There was elation from the Terp basketball staff and its legion of supporters when Stokes announced Maryland as his college of choice on May 11, during the spring signing period...Invited as one of only 16 high school seniors to try out for the U.S. Junior World Championship team this past summer...The starting point guard for the U.S. All-Star team in the Capital Classic...He finished as the fourth highest scorer on the team...He handed out a game high six assists...Scored the game winning basket for the U.S. All-Stars in the Capital Classic, joining Danny Manning, Dereck Whittenberg and Jason Kidd as high school stars who had scored the game winning basket in the Capital Classic...With the Capital Classic on the line in overtime in his future home of Cole Field House, Stokes dazzled the "hometown" crowd...In the overtime, he hit two free throws to give the U.S. All-Stars a 118-117 lead; then scored the game winner with a soft 10-foot jumper, giving his team a 122-121 lead...With 25 seconds remaining, he assisted on the final basket of the game, giving the U.S. the 124-121 victory...Played with current Terp freshmen Obinna Ekezie and Laron Profit on the U.S. Team in the Capital Classic... Averaged 13.8 points, 9.4 assists, 9.2 rebounds and 5.8 steals as a senior in leading perennial powerhouse Simon Gratz to the Philadelphia City Title game...Posted two quadrupal double-doubles as a senior...Posted two triple-doubles as a senior, establishing single game career high scoring marks of 29 points and 17 assists...Comes from the same high school, Simon Gratz, as former North Carolina and now NBA star Rasheed Wallace...Helped lead Simon Gratz to a four-year record of 109-11 (.908) and two Philadelphia Public League championships...A member of the 13-player All-Tournament team at the Adidas ABCD Camp in Teaneck, N.J. during the summer of 1994...Likes to set the tone of a game with his passing and defense...A finesse player who passes the ball extremely well in all situations...His abilities will tremendously improve the Terps ability to penetrate off the dribble...Ranked No. 37 on the Blue Chip Illustrated list of the Top-100 High School Players of 1995...Personal: Born Jan 8, 1976...His full name is Terrell Montez Stokes.

Hawaii

A VISIT TO PARADISE

loha was the word for the Terps as they opened the 1994-95 season on the island paradise of Maui, Hawaii. The trip included high level basketball, snorkeling, jet-skiing, seafood, sunsets and companionship.

The Terps viewed the Maui Invitational as an early springboard into the regular season. What they found when they arrived was quality competition, an ACC tournament like atmosphere and all of the sun and sand that could be absorbed during a six day stay on the island.

The team landed at the Maui airport and bused through the island's vast lava fields to Lahaina on the western side of the island. The team viewed numerous extraordinary sights during the short sojourn to the team hotel including the many mountains jetting from the ocean floor and the beautiful flora abounding those peaks.

The Terps practiced at the Lahaina Civic Center on Saturday and at a local high on Sunday in preparation for its first game against the host team Chaminade University. The team was kept on College Park time for the first game which necessitated a 4:30 a.m. wake up call for its 9:00 a.m. tip-off versus the Silverswords. The early tip-off time in Hawaii allowed the Terps to showcase their No. 7 national ranking to the entire nation as part of ESPN's college basketball package. Maryland eased past Chaminade, 95-67, as center Joe Smith scored 26 points and quard Johnny Rhodes added 18. Maryland's next opponent was a surprising Utah team which upset Indiana in the first round. Smith tied his then career high of 33 points and Duane Simpkins added 20 as the Terps pulled away late in the game to defeat the Utes, 90-78. Maryland met Arizona State, who had defeated Texas A&M and Michigan, in the championship final. The Sun Devils used the uptempo style and 60 percent shooting from the field to defeat the Terps. 97-90. The Sun Devils scored a number of fast-break baskets and shot six of 15 from three point range during the game.

"The tournament was a really big challenge for us," said Head Coach Gary Williams. "In playing these kinds of teams we had to change our preparation in terms of what we could do pressure wise. We played in the ACC Tournament later in the year where we again had to play three games in a row. So it was a good experience, and I think it helped us when we got to March." Prior to the tip-off against Arizona State, the team was given a pep rally send-off by the many Terp fans who made the Thanksgiving week trip to paradise. The Terps' fan contingent was one of the largest and loudest at the Civiv Center each day. Thanksgiving Day turned out to be among the most memorable days for basket-

members. The Terrapins spent that day swimming and sunning themselves on Maui's beaches. Among the favorite activities were snorkeling, jet skiing, swimming and relaxing. Said Simpkins: "My highlight was on our free day when we all went snorkeling. I saw a lot of tropical fish that I had never seen before.' Exree Hipp, who went jet-skiing for the first time added: "It (jetskiing) was something that I had always wanted to do. But it wasn't like it is in Ocean City where you do it right from the beach. You had to go out to a platform in the middle of the ocean I got a little scared." For Williams, he reached back to the basketball court for his top memory of the trip. "My best memory was beating Utah. I was really scared going into that game

because you have three games in three days and you don't have much time to prepare. Off the court, the seafood was my highlight. I love seafood. Maryland doesn't take a back-seat to anyone (for seafood), but it's right there out of the season and it's really tremendous.

"I think it was a good experience for us," said Hipp. "The tournament made us focus more and put more emphasis on some of the things we were and weren't doing on the court in practice." As the Terps flew out of paradise with fond memories of sun, sand and ocean forever chronicleed by cameras and video recorders to be looked and remembered fondly.

Athletic Director

DEBORAH A. YOW

eborah A. Yow, whose tenure as Athletic Director at Saint Louis University was marked by extraordinary academic and competitive achievement, was named to direct the athletic program at the University of Marvland by President William E. Kirwan on August 15, 1994.

Yow's energetic presence at Marvland produced a dynamic first year. Her effective reorganization of the budget process allowed a departmental deficit to be slashed dramatically. For the first time in 11 years, the athletic department budget finished in the black. She also reorganized the development and marketing departments, giving Maryland a financial outreach program with which to accomplish its goals. An accentuation of academics insures continued improvement in graduation rates and academics.

Yow oversees a massive refurbishing program of facilities. Byrd Stadium's current $20 million in construction and the refurbishment of the Cole Field House seating area are just two of many projects that are taking place, or which are planned, at Maryland. Along with the administrative success have come competitive successes. The most fans in school history watched the men's basketball team again reach the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament, men's soccer qualify for its first NCAA appearance in eight years and win its first tournament game in 25 years, and men's and women's lacrosse qualify for the NCAA finals in each sport. with the women winning the national championship. Yow's experience allowed her to step-in at Maryland at the busiest time of the vear—just when the 24-sport program and school year were getting underway. She knew about getting things done. At Saint Louis, she led the effort which enabled the university to achieve a 92 percent graduation rate for student athletes. She increased significantly the marketing, promotion and corporate sponsorship of Saint Louis's athletic program. In her last year, the Billikens ranked second only to national champion Arkansas among all NCAA schools in percentage increase of men's basketball attendance. Prior to becoming an athletic director, the indomitable Yow had a highly successful career as basketball coach. She is the first coach in NCAA history to lead previously unranked teams at three different NCAA Division I schools to top 20 rankings. She coached at the University of Kentucky, Oral Roberts University, and the University of Florida. Yow served as a member of the NCAA Council, the primary governance body for the NCAA, and the Division I Steering Committee. She also served as a member of the Executive Committee of the National Association

Division I Steering Committee. She also served as a member of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Collegiate Association. Yow began her administrative career in 1985 when she moved from basketball coach to assistant director of the University of Florida Gator Boosters, Inc. From 1987 to 1990, she served as associate director of athletics at the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, before going to Saint Louis. Her collegiate basketball career began at Elon College. She coached at Burlington and Eastern Guilford high schools in North Carolina before being appointed at Kentucky as head Yow, 45, is the first and only female athletic director in the Conference, and one of only 12 in the NCAA Division I category. She is married to Dr. William W.

Athletic Department

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Danita DeHaney and the Maryland colors go well together—her involvement with College Park athletics goes back almost two decades. DeHaney presently assists the athletic director in the overall administration of the athletic department, including staff development and outcomes assessment. As part of her position, she directs a department-wide continuous quality improvement program. She also assists in the solicitation of gifts for the athletic department, coordinating her efforts through the Athletic Advancement office. In addition, she serves as the department equity officer. A cheerleader as an College Park undergraduate, she was elected captain in her senior year. Her Bachelor's degree from the College of Business and Management was earned in 1981, with a concentration in personnel and labor relations. For 11 years prior to her Maryland appointment in June, 1995, she worked for Learning International of Greenbelt, Md., as a senior executive, selling, designing, developing and implementing custom training systems for major corporations. Since 1991, she has served on the boards of both the Terrapin Club and Maryland Educational Foundation.

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF ATRETICS

Jamie Pollard oversees the budgetary and administrative operations of the athletic department as a Certified Public Accountant. A graduate of the Univesity of Wisconsin at Oskosh in 1987, he went to work for Arthur Andersen & Co. in Milwaukee as a staff accountant upon graduation. In 1989, he was appointed Associate Director of Athletics for Business and Finance at St. Louis University where he oversaw finances and directly supervised six intercollegiate sports. He assumed his present position at Maryland in September of 1994. Pollard is an outstanding distance runner, having earned NCAA All-American status in college. He is a highly effective budget and fiscal accountability specialist, and serves as chief financial officer. Jamie and his wife Ellen reside in Greenbelt, Md.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS FOR MARKETING AND PROMOTIONS

R.D. Helt was appointed in March of 1995 as Assistant Athletic Director after serving as football administrator for Coach Mark Duffner in 1994. He performed marketing and promotions duties at both Ohio State and Kent State after graduating from Missouri Western State in 1985. Helt from 1988 to 1994 was the Recruiting Coordinator in football at the University of Kansas, playing a role in the emergence of the Jayhawks. At Ohio State, where he earned his Master's degree in Sports Administration, Helt was responsible for the marketing of women's basketball. He was Assistant Director of Marketing at Kent State where he worked with football and basketball. R.D. and his wife, Nikki, have one child, Christopher, and live in Ellicott City.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS FOR ADVANCEMENT

Charles J. (C.J.) Kupec arrived in College Park in May with impressive intercollegiate participant experience: Michigan basketball All-America and a member of a Wolverine Big Ten championship football team, and an NBA player who also competed in the Italian and Swiss professional leagues. Prior to his arrival at Maryland, he was Assistant Director for Development at Illinois State, and Major Gift Prospect Officer for ISU, supervising athletics development, major gift giving, marketing, and promotions. At Maryland he will oversee all aspects of athletics development, including the annual fund (Terrapin Club), the letterwinners club (M-Club), and major gifts. A 1975 graduate of Michigan, he earned his bachelor's degree in general studies with a communications-literature concentration. He was a Fielding H. Yost Honor Award winner, twice captain of the basketball team and Academic all-Big 10 in football. He and his wife Vicki have two children, Christopher and Allison.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS FOR VARSITY SPORTS

Gothard Lane's career at Maryland includes roles as coach and administrator and spans 22 years. He presently oversees 16 varsity sports and coordinates championship events on campus. He served as the director of the men's NCAA Lacrosse championship in 1994 and 1995 which set all-time attendance records for the sports. In recent years Maryland has hosted NCAA championships in men's basketball, women's volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's lacrosse. Lane is a graduate of Randolph Macon College where he played football. He was an assistant coach at Tulane and Virginia Tech before becoming an assistant at Maryland in 1973. He coached under both Jerry Claiborne before being named Assistant Athletic Director for Non-Revenue Sports in 1982. Lane and his wife Mary Lou live in Chesapeake Beach.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS FOR STUDENT SERVICES

Javaune Adams-Gaston oversees the student athlete's educational and medical well-being by her management of the Academic Support Unit and the Athletic Medicine support staff. Adams Gaston, a psycholgist, came to Maryland in 1985 as part of the University's counseling center, and in 1988 she was appointed to direct athletic student counseling, a part of academic support. In 1992 she was appointed an assistant athletic director with her present expanded duties. In 1994-1995, she served as chair of the College Park campus women's commission. A 1978 graduate of the University of Dubuque with a B.S. in biology, she earned her Master's degree in clinical psychology from Loras College in 1980 and her Ph.D in Counseling psychology from Iowa State in 1983. Javaune and her husband Dimitri have three children, and live in Silver Spring, Md.

There is an insistence in the Maryland basketball program that student-athletes get a degree in a career field that will enhance their life after College Park. The insistence is underlined by Coach Williams and his staff, by the athletic administration, and by the Academic Support Unit of the Department of Athletics.

Dr. Javaune Adams-Gaston, educator and clinical psychologist, is the Assistant Athletic Director for Athletic Student Services. She oversees the student-athlete's educational and medical well-being by her management of the Academic Support Unit and the Athletic Medicine support staff.

A 1978 graduate of the University of Dubuque with a B.S. in biology, psychology and general sciences, she earned her Master's degree in Clinical Psychology from Loras College in 1980 and her Ph.D in Counseling Psychology from Iowa State in 1983. She was appointed to direct student counseling in the athletic department in 1988.

Dr. Adams-Gaston regularly provides time for individual student-athletes as educational advisor and counselor. Her hands-on approach extends to a thorough series of seminars she and her staff hold that train the student-athlete in pertinent education beyond the classroom. Seminars cover time management, study skills, stress management, moti-

COLLEGE PARK ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Towards a good start

The Academic Support Unit will teach an orientation course for freshman student athletes (Education 108, Orientation to the University) to start the fall semester. The program will be taught by the Academic Support staff and concentrated on skills and development issues. The course is intended to make the transition to college life user friendly.

The program allows the newcomer to balance their dual roles of academics and athletics in an unfamiliar environment. Student athletes are taught organizational skills, which include note taking, time management, pro-active planning, learning strategies, test-taking, and writing skills.

Making the first year special at Maryland

The University's First Year Focus program is designed to see that the new student gets off to a good start at College Park. It has three parts.

To make sure the new student becomes acquainted with the campus's most important resource-its faculty—First Year Focus provides the student with the opportunity to study with a member of the faculty in a small class, appropriate for first year students, devoted to that faculty member's scholarly interests.

The University invites the new student to participate in an innovative program called Connections: Course Clusters, which enables them to enroll in a variety of thematically related courses, supplemented by a one-credit linking seminar. Course Clusters not only allows the new student to examine a given subject intensely from a variety of disciplinary perspectives, but will also give you the opportunity to develop a network of friends who share intellectual interests.

The Student Government Association arranges for the new student to participate in its First Year Books activities. SGA selects a noteworthy book which it hopes will be an intellectual starting point for the incoming class of students. Many courses adopt it and incorporate it into their curricula. The book inevitably becomes subject to campus-wide debate in seminars, lectures, and even performances. The new student's copy of the selected book is waiting at orientation.

First Year Focus is designed to make the big university small, to allow the vast resources of a research university with some of the intimacy of a small college. The College Park Scholars Program and the University Honors Program also serve the same end.

College Park Scholars is a new program designed to acquaint entering first-year students with the rich texture of academic life at the university. The program encourages students who share common intellectual interests to study together in courses organized around common themes and to live toothier in a selected residence

John Bowman

Liz Friedman

Don Pearman

John Bowman is Associate Director for Student Services for Academic Support. He returned to Academic Support Unit in 1994 after spending three years in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. He had previously been Senior Advisor in Academic Support from 1987 through 1991. He was also an Athletic Advisor in 1986 in the Department of Undergraduate Studies, and a coordinator in the campus's Intensive Education Development Program (1979-1986).

A 1969 graduate of Oberlin, he earned a Master's in Education from Case- Western Reserve in 1976

Liz Friedman begins her fifth year as a full-time athletic department employee after four years of assisting student-athletes on a parttime basis in the ASU. A native of Rockville, Md., and a graduate of College Park, she coordinates the Academic Support Unit's satisfactory progress monitoring system for all ath-

the football team in all aspects of academic support. The monitoring system is effective because of the full communication between the ASU staff, the faculty, and student-athletes. Don Pearman is in his fourth year at College Park, but his experience in the University System numbers five years. Pearman works directly with the men's basketball team on a yearround support system. He formerly was program director of the Meyerhoff Scholarships at the University of Maryland at Baltimore County campus. A model program of minority recruitment in the fields of mathematics and science, the Meyerhoff program is widely emulated. In the ASU, Pearman is responsible for post-graduate scholarship endeavors, the unit's tutorial program, and he monitors six Varsity sports.

Pearman, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., received both his Bachelor's degree in sociology and his Master's degree in counseling from St. Lawrence University.

letes, and works daily with

The University Honors Program provides the university's most academically talented students a challenging and exciting range of seminar-style classes, a close-knit community, and contact with outstanding faculty. Typically, freshmen and sophomores broaden their intellectual horizons in a wide variety of specially designed Honors seminars and Honors versions of regular courses, most of which fulfill general education requirements. A Honors lecture series, a literary magazine as well as a vibrant social and cultural life complement the academic offerings. Many of these activities take place in Anne Arundel Hall, the Honors Living Learning Center, which is the center of the Honors Program.

Strength & Conditioning

ollege Basketball has evolved to where total physical training is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to Head Coach Gary Williams that all of the Terrapin players are prepared in terms of physical strength and conditioning. A heightened spirit of determination by each member of the basketball team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and on the basketball court.

The commitment by the Terrapin players has been a key element in Marylandis rise to national prominence and becoming a fixture in the national rankings. Maryland was ranked the last two years.

Marylandís year round strength and conditioning program for basketball is coordinated by Head Strength and Conditioning Coach Dwight Galt. Galt. works extensively with the menis basketball team, teaching plyometrics, Olympic training, explosive free weight training, motivation techniques and nutrition. He is certified by the International Sports Science Association and is member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Galt has designed a dynamic workout for the basketball team which in centered around a power style of training emphasizing explosive power, flexibility, body strength, agility and pre- and in- season conditioning.

Galtis explosive power philosophy has been derived from the game of basketball. All of the quick starts, stops, sprints and jumps that are routine on a basketball court are power movements. Thus, the Terps' workouts rely heavily on explosive free weight training. The workouts also center around strength training, including squat, bench and deadlifts.

The conditioning program plays a large role in preparing the Terps for the court. Pre-season workouts begin shortly after classes commence in September. During the pre-season, the team lifts weights and follows an anaerobic conditioning program three times a week and attends aerobic conditioning sessions twice a week. The conditioning also includes distance sprints and basketball specific agility movement.

The Terp basketball players are fortunate to train in two of the premier weight training facilities in the country. The main Maryland Weight Room features 7,200 square feet of space that holds advanced training equipment which caters to the specific needs of basketball. A main component in this facility is the free weight equipment, including ten mammoth power racks, Olympic platforms and 11 tons of free weights. State-of-the-art selectrolyzed and plate loaded equipment further give the student/athlete the chance to better themselves. Another outstanding facility available to the team is the basketball weight room, located adjacent to the locker room. There, the Terps enjoy a modern, well equipped facility only steps from the locker room.

The Maryland basketball players are now better prepared to be on the basketball court, and because of that, have realized an increase in performance on the court.

DWIGHT GALTHead Strength and Conditioning Coach

Dwight Galt was named to head the strength and conditioning unit on January 2, 1994. Galt came to work as an assistant strength and conditioning coach on a part-time basis. He assumed a full-time position in 1989. During that time, he worked extensively with the Washington Capitals of the National Hockey League.

Galt supervises all of the strength and conditioning training for the football and basketball programs and coordinates the training of Maryland's entire 24 sport intercollegiate athletic program.

He has been an integral part of Maryland's building tradition the weight room. Throughout his tenure at Maryland, the Terp football players have improved in all areas of weight training and conditioning. Galt has been a key element in the Terp's rise to national prominence and back-to-back NCAA Tournament "Sweet 16" appearances. Galt has previously worked with Maryland's nationally ranked football and basketball programs. In 1984, he worked with Maryland's ACC and Sun Bowl Championship football team. He has also worked with the Terps 1985, 1994 and 1995 NCAA Basketball Tournament teams.

Galt earned his B.S.

degree in business management from Maryland in 1981 and his M.S. in exercise physiology from Maryland in 1989.

Galt, 37, and his wife, Jan, have four children, Angie, Teri, Dwight IV and Tom.

Born July 15, 1957, Galt is certified by the International Sports Science Association and is member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

DR. WILLIAM E. KIRWAN

fter 25 years of service as a professor and administrator at the University of Maryland at College Park and following a national search, Dr. William English Kirwan was appointed president of the university on February 1, 1989. He served as acting president of the university from August 1, 1988, until the time of his appointment as president.

Dr. Kirwan joined the university in 1964 as an assistant professor of mathematics. He rose through the faculty ranks as associate professor (1968-1972), professor (1972-present), and chair of the Department of Mathematics (1977-81).

In 1981, he was appointed vice chancellor for academic affairs, College Park's chief academic post. As vice chancellor, Dr. Kirwan raised admission standards, increased the number of merit scholarships and graduate fellowships, and established an academic planning process.

During his tenure as president of the university, Dr. Kirwan has played a pivotal role in all of the university's most significant initiatives, including: an increased emphasis on graduate education: selective enhancement of academic programs: recruitment and retention of distinguished faculty; achievement of diversity goals for underrepresented minorities, and a national capital campaign in excess of $200 million.

Dr. Kirwan is known for his ability to see beyond the institutions day-to-day problems, and for his talent as a consensus builder among the large and diverse campus community. Under his leadership, the university undertook a major restructuring of its academic organization, going from a divisional system to a more traditional system of colleges and schools. Subsequently, when the state's economic decline forced a reduction of the university's budget, he oversaw a streamlining of the university's academic offerings through the elimination of a college, seven departments, and 32 degree programs.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of various honorary and professional societies, including Phi Beta Kappa, the American Mathematical Society, and the Mathematical Association of America. He is the co-editor of the book Advances is Complex Analysis, and the author of many published articles on mathematical research. He served as an editor of the Proceeding of the American Mathematical Society from 1977 to 1985. He chaired the Mathematical Sciences in the Year 2000 committee, a task force created by the National Research Council (NRO) to improve mathematics education in the nation's colleges and universities during the next decade, and he currently serves on the NRC's Committee on Undergraduate Science Education.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of numerous boards, including the Board of Directors of the American Association of Colleges and Universities, the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (the Fulbright Program), the World Trade Center Institute, the Baltimore Council of Foreign Affairs, and the Greater Washington Board of Trade. He was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of State and Land Grant Colleges (NASULGC) and to the Presidents Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). He is also chairelect of the NASULGC's Commission on Ocean and Atmosphere. In addition, Dr. Kirwan serves on the American Council on Education Commission on Women in Higher Education and chairs the Prince George's County Board of Education's Citizens Advisory Committee.

Dr. William E. Kirwan, University President

Because of his contributions to higher education, he was named Officer in the Order of Leopold II by the Belgium Government and elected to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Distinguished Alumni.

Noted for his enormous energy and long work days, Dr. Kirwan regularly finds time to teach an undergraduate class. Whenever possible, he schedules time to enjoy a classical music concert and tries to find an hour or two each week to escape to a convenient tennis court where he is known as a very competitive tennis player.

Dr. Kirwan is married to Patricia Harper of Lexington, Kentucky. They have two children: a son, William E. Kirwan III, 30, a Washington architect who earned his baccalaureate and master's degrees from the university, and a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, 25, who also graduated from the university with a degree in journalism.

THE UNIVERSITY AT COLLEGE PARK

he University of Maryland at College Park serves as the state's primary center for graduate study and research, provides undergraduate instruction across a broad spectrum of academic disciplines and extends its vast intellectual resources to the community through innovative projects designed to serve individuals, governments and the private sector throughout the state of Maryland, the nation and the world.

Today's comprehensive public research university for the state of Maryland had its origin in 1859 as the Maryland Agricultural College, the . third such state institution in the world. It became one of the nation's original landgrant institutions in 1862. The state assumed authority in 1920, joining College park with the professional schools in Baltimore to form an expanded University of Maryland.

With students and faculty drawn to Maryland from all 50 states and 110 countries, College Park is home to a rich mix of social, intellectual and cultural perspectives.

Among public research universities in the Association of American Universities, College Park ranks first in percentage of African American undergraduate students. Also, the university has the largest number of African American and other minority faculty members among its peers. Such facts, illustrate College Park's progress toward becoming a national model of diversity.

Rated as one of the 20 top-funded universities by the National Science Foundation, College Park is a national center of innovative scientific and engineering research. Such programs as the Engineering Research Center, the Institute for Systems Research and the Center for Global Change conduct ground-breaking studies on topics including global warming, robotics and sea-level rise.

Engineering's Glenn L. Martin Wind Tunnel is the most advanced aerodynamic testing facility of its kind on any university campus. In the wind tunnel, researchers perform airflow tests on stateof-the-art designs for such products as automobiles, aircraft wings, telephone cables, signs and power lines. Another one-of-kind is the Neutral Buoyancy Facility which resembles weightlessness for space research.

Recalling its founding as a land grant institution, 1994 marked the opening of the new Center for Agricultural Biotechnology, reflecting the College of Agriculture's new philosophy of sustainable agriculture.

Close to home, College Park faculty and staff provide technical assistance to state and local governmental bodies and education systems, outreach programs in support of technology transfer and in-service or continuing education programs in areas such as computer science, engineering, business, journalism and education.

The University's efforts go far behind the state's boundaries in developing economic opportunities and partnerships abroad for Maryland businesses and industries. And, a $16 million, three-year contract from the USAID to the university's Center for Institutional Reform and the Informal Sector (IRIS) is funding a project aimed at helping the leaders in the former Soviet Union establish a market economy.

Recognizing the importance of the Far East, the university's strengthening relationships with mainland China, Japan and Taiwan are forging new research, business and cultural ties to promote greater exchange of students and scholars.

From athletics to aesthetics, talent takes many forms at the University of Maryland at College Park. The university presents hundreds of cultural events annually. The campus is also home to the Summer Institute for the Creative and Performing Arts, known as the Rossborough Festival, which sponsors nationally and internationally recognized programs including the National Orchestral Institute and the International William Kapell Piano Competition.

Campus neighbors include such important national resources as the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution, the National Institutes of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center.

Close by is Maryland's historic state capital, Annapolis, also known as the sailing and seafood capital of the nation, a tribute to its Chesapeake Bay setting. The nearby Chesapeake Bay offers not only recreational diversions but the opportunity to study and conduct research aimed at sustaining the nation's largest estuarine system.

The MARC train offers public transportation from College Park to Baltimore's Camden Station, next door to where the Orioles play baseball in the heart of the historic city. And the highly efficient Metro system, with a new station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C. area easy.

Add all the accolades and, still, only a partial picture emerges because the University of Maryland at College Park is far more than the sum of its parts. One thing is clear, however, with a student body increasing yearly in both quality and diversity, private support growing at a phenomenal rate and multifaceted research program attracting record funding, Maryland's flagship institution ranks as a national resource.

History of College Park

Just after the American Revolution, the state of Maryland established its first two colleges at Chestertown and Annapolis. By the 1850s, at least 30 little colleges had sprung-up over the state, many with state support, but many of them disappearing within a few years. Then, in 1859, a different kind of institution appeared at College Park-the Maryland Agricultural College—the third such college in the world, created mainly for farmers' sons. The college was established by Charles Benedict Calvert, a wealthy planter from nearby Riversdalenow Riverdale—and later a congressman. Calvert built a handsome Gothic dormitorv-classroom structure located in a grove of trees near the present Morrill Hall, and he divided the land down the Baltimore-Washington Turnpike into small plots where each of the 50-or-so students experimented with a different crop. After the Civil War, the institution became a land-grant college, with small appropriations from Washington. The little college began to grow about 1900 when agricultural experiments began to bring prosperity to Maryland, and when the college expanded its offerings into engineering, business and the liberal arts. In 1912 the old Gothic building burned, and the state provided modern structures. Women were admitted to the campus, and graduate work began. In 1920 the college combined with the long established professional schools of Baltimore and changed its name to the University of Maryland. Growth accelerated after 1935 when the politically astute football coach, H.C. "Curley" Byrd, became president, added scores of new programs, and won national football championships. In the 1950s and 1960s. President Wilson H. Elkins maintained the rapid growth, and College Park became one of the largest campuses in the nation. President Elkins, a Rhodes Scholar, transformed the institution's public image to one of high academic integrity. In the 1970s and 1980s, the University's graduate and research programs flourished. In 1988, the General Assembly of Maryland combined six state colleges with the five campuses of the University of Maryland, and specifically charged College Park with the role of leadership in the revamped system estudo is a Diamondback turtle. Like some other famous personages born into the Depression of the 1930s, the derivation of his name is cloudy. But it is likely that his moniker is derived from the scientific classification for turtle (testudines). Or the top turtle could be named after testudo gigantia, a species native to the African nation of Seychelles and one of its remote islands. Aldabra. Or the name could have come from a dictionary definition that says the word, testudo, was derived from the Latin and meant a shelter held over the head of Roman soldiers --like a tortoise shell. These explanations are a long way from the Chesapeake Bay where the Diamondback lives.

When Testudo had his coming out on May 23, 1933, he was thrown into a world filled with intimidating mascots— Wildcats, Tigers, Devils, Wolves, Bears—thought up over a half-century of intercollegiate competition. Maryland College Park was consolidated from different state schools in 1920 to form the base of today's wideranging state system, and the remodeled Maryland needed a flag carrier to do battle with Wahoos. Lions and Generals.

Dr. H.C. Byrd, a football coach who later became University President, recommended the Diamondback as mascot in 1932 in response to the student newspaper's search for an "official" leader. Byrd's childhood in Crisfield. Md., apparently included skirmishes with this brand of snapping turtle, indigenous to the Bay. The school paper was in fact already called The Diamondback, and when the Class of 1933 stepped forward with the idea of giving the University a permanent bronzed version as its graduation gift, Testudo's family was in to stay.

Maryland had been referring to itself as Old Liners, yet another name whose derivation no one seems sure of. Historians are in a scrimmage over whether the nickname is a reference to a Revolutionary War Troop of Maryland soldiers who distinguished themselves on the field of battle, or they feel it could refer to a squabble with Pennsylvanians over just where the border between the two states should be.

The Class of '33 raised money for casting a Diamondback by holding its Senior Prom on campus to save money on expenses. And the yearbook and Student Government Association chippedin. Edwin C. Mayo, Class of '04 and a former quarterback. donated at cost the 300 pound bronzed beauty as President of Gorham Manufacturing in Providence, RI. Robert J. Hill cast the inspired sculpture accomplished by company artist Aristide Cianfrani. Further turtleization came when the student yearbook. The Reveille, became The Terrapin in 1935. Newspapers, even then exploring every angle, shortened Terrapin to Terp for headline writing ease when it wasn't trying to cram Old Liner into a single column head. The name was in place; now came the stuff of legend.

The Stuff of Legend

The nicely thought out plans that made Testudo an instant hit did have a flaw. Putting Mr. T in front of the campus gym, Ritchie Coliseum, exposed Testudo to every road agent wearing enemy colors. Ritchie was right on U.S. Route 1, then the principal North-South highway along the Eastern Seaboard. When a less dignified opponent needed something extra against the turtle and his troops, they practiced emotional blackmail,

and kidnapped him.

That was not the worst of it. They painted his golden skin enemy colors. and defaced his pedestal which was only to have the block M on it. Instead, opponents painted illegitimate JH's or GW's or V's or NC's on his nest. A riot took place when Johns Hopkins students kidnapped the handsome reptile in 1947; 200 police were called to the Baltimore campus to control the justified anger of College Park students. Two years later, the nifty shelled crusader was found on the lawn of a Virginia (The University) fraternity house, whose occupants smugly called President Byrd with the message to get Testudo off their lawn. Of course Byrd obliged, and soon after Testudo was hidden in the campus carpentry shop where he was less inspirational, but a whole lot safer.

The second stadium bearing Byrd's name was built in 1950, and in 1951 Testudo, sans coats of rivals' paint, took his perch in front of the Byrd Stadium football team house. He had beaten back all who would wrong him, and to make sure he would not travel again, he was fed 700 pounds of cement and had his body attached to a new pedestal by long steel rods.

With his permanent nesting came success for Maryland. Acting as guardian to waves of Terp competitors, the national football championship came, as did several ACC titles in the 1950s. His popularity among the students might have been the undoing of success, however. When McKeldin Library was constructed in the middle of campus, the student body demanded Testudo's full-time presence in the center of day-today activities. Testudo had gone far beyond being just a symbol for athletics. He was a campus symbol. Students carefully carried him up the hill to the main College Green and the library, and he was bolted to a new bed of stone in the early 1960s.

Coincidence or not, football did have a downturn in the 1960s with Testudo absent. In the 1970s. when a costumed Testudo started to roam the sideline. success was returning. The furry Testudo reigned over unrivaled ACC football prowess, and sent Terps out to the four corners of the football world for bowls and intersectional clashes.

In 1992, a bronze duplicate to Testudo was created and installed just outside the new Football Complex locker room door. As the football team takes the field, the team congregates around the bronze Terrapin, and then all touch his nose for good luck. In 1995, Testudo was again duplicated as a bronze Terrapin statue was placed in Cole Field House as part of lobby refurbishment.

Joel Meisner Co. of Farmingdale, N.Y., created the duplicates. Two men spent two days in June of 1992 pouring a rubberized material over Testudo as it sat in front of McKeldin Library, followed by a wax mold on top. After a day to let the molds set, the wax was broken and easily removed. The rubber mold, which actually recreated Testudo, was painstakingly peeled away from the bronze and taken back to Meisner's factory where the first duplicate was created using the Lost Wax method.

While Testudo was being copied by Meisner Co. in front of McKeldin, the research library was undergoing extensive refurbishment. As part of the new interior and exterior McKeldin received, the original Testudo, was given a new pedestal and his bronze coat was cleaned. The Class of '33, which created Testudo in the first place, used its 60th reunion to dedicate the rejuvenated campus symbol.

Fifty-nine years ago, the Diamondback turtle Gorham used as a model for the shelled wonder had a ribbon attached to it at the dedication. The ribbon was tied to the canvas covering the statue. The Diamondback moved forward, and revealed the splendor of his larger, bronzed brother. But no one rushed the smaller Diamondback in his duties. All in attendance were true believers who knew what many unfaithful have discovered about Terrapins. They bite.

so comprehensive that if offers degrees in 98 disciplines, so technologically advanced that it manages specially designed research facilities not found on any other campus in the country, and boasts a telecommunications system which serves as a model for universities worldwide. And, at the same time, it is a university concerned enough to include special housing matched to student interests, and to ensure that half of all undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students.

That's a snapshot of the University of Maryland at College Park, the flagship institution of Maryland's system of higher education.

Value Added: College Park is included in the Guide to 101 of the Best Values in Colleges and Universities, published annually by the Center for College Enrollment Studies.

Cole Field House

ts official name is the "William P. Cole Student Activities Building." That's what can be read on the structure that sits between the tennis courts and the Student Union on the main thoroughfare on the University of Maryland's College Park campus.

Of course, everyone just calls it "Cole." Like Kentucky, where the Wildcats play at "Rupp." Or in Westwood, where UCLA plays in "Pauley."

The building has also become known as Cole Field House, even though that description appears nowhere officially. In 1955 when the building was dedicated. "field house" was typically affixed to most indoor basketball facilities. Images of players in black and white shooting set shots, fans in bobby socks and a visit to the set of "Hoosiers" come to mind.

That certainly was Cole when it opened, but so much has happened since. As Cole celebrates its 40th anniversary season, it is still one of the top arenas in the East, and one of the best places in the nation to watch a basketball game. Just last season, a new locker room and a refurbished lobby area were completed for the men's team. This season, the women's basketball team will have comparable facilities. The future could bring skyboxes, air conditioning, new and additional seating, a glass facade, and an expanded Hall of Fame.

"It's one of the great places to watch a college basketball game in terms of view from the seats," says Gary Williams. "You don't have to change anything out there. But the building is 40 years old and there are some things you can do. Like building new locker rooms and painting the seats red."

Athletics Director Debbie Yow has begun preliminary discussions on the refurbishment of Cole.

Says Yow: "All it takes is money. I'd like to see more seats, air conditioning and a wider concourse. But right now, that's a dream."

One thing that has remained constant in Cole is good basketball. In 40 years, there have been plenty of wonderful moments. The building has housed a tremendous winning history and a rich tradition of elite competition.

The Terps have finished at least .500 in 31 of the 39 basketball seasons in Cole, including last season, when the team finished a perfect 16-0. The building has played host to some of the great games in the program's history. Many such games came during the 1970s, when the Terps proved to be giant killers. During the decades of the '70s and '80s the Terps defeated then number ones South Carolina (1971), Notre Dame (1979). UCLA (1981) and Virginia (1983). In the 1990s the Terps defeated North Carolina.

RECORD AT COLE

The dedication game, December 2, 1955, was also a Terp victory. Maryland opened the 1955-56 season with a resounding 67-55 victory over conference rival Virginia. The Terps were led by Bob Kessler's 23 points and 16 rebounds. The year before. Maryland and Virginia and a handful from the Carolinas began competing in that Atlantic Coast Conference. Three years later, in 1958, the Terps would provide Cole with its first ACC Championship banner, Originally, the capacity in Cole was 12,000 because there were no floor seats. Some 9,000 fans turned out for the inaugural game to see the $3.3 million arena dedicated in the name of a longtime member of the school's Board of Regents. The largest crowd ever to watch a game was 15,827; the crowd witnessed the Terps and North Carolina in an overtime 1972 thriller. Cole now seats 14,500 in addition to 96 courtside seats, which became available at the beginning of the 1993-94 season.

Ironically, two of the biggest games in the arena's storied history did not feature the Terps on the court. In fact, it could be argued by basketball historians that Cole was the site of the two most important games in college and high school basketball history.

In January of 1965, Morgan Wooten's DeMatha Catholic High School team played host to the powerful Power Memorial of New York in what is remembered as the biggest showdown in high school basketball history.

Wootten was quietly building a national power in Hyattsville, Md., and he was doing so by playing, and defeating, the top prep teams in the nation. Power countered DeMatha's might with 7-foot center Lew Alcindor (later Kareem Abdul-Jabbar), who would go on to be the all-time leading scorer in the history of the National Basketball Association. In front of more that 12,000 screaming fans on a cold, snowy night, DeMatha upset Power, 46-43, handing Alcindor the only loss of his high school career. That game is said to have gone a long way towards putting Washington, D.C. high school basketball on the map with major college recruiters.

Less than two years later, Cole was the site of perhaps the most memorable NCAA Tournament Final in history. An all-Black team from Texas Western (now the University of Texas at El Paso) defeated an all white team from Kentucky to win the national championship.

Cole Field House

Home Games Only

The game turned a lot of heads, and led many coaches at Southernbased institutions to begin recruiting black student-athletes. Cole also played host to the 1970 NCAA Championship game in which UCLA defeated Jacksonville, as Sydney Lowe outdueled Artis Gilmore. It was the fourth of UCLA's seven consecutive NCAA Titles. In 1991, Cole played host to another huge upset, as 15th seeded Richmond defeated second seeded Syracuse, 73-69, in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Cole also was the site of ESPN's first live college basketball broadcast in 1979.

Cole is the only on-campus facility to have played host to multiple NCAA Final Fours.

Cole can also boast to being one of the few on-campus facilities to play host to high school, college and professional games. In addition to the Maryland State High School Championships being held in Cole each spring, the Washington Bullets called Cole home while awaiting the competition of the Capital Centre (now USAir Arena). Cole also plays host to the Capital Classic High School All-Star game each April.

"Cole" is much more than just a basketball arena. It is at the heart of the University of Maryland.

Terp Enthusiasm

ead Coach Gary Williams regularly tells anyone who asks that "Cole Field House is one of the toughest places to play in the Atlantic Coast Conference." He backs that statement up with fact: Maryland was the only team in the ACC to go unbeaten at home during the 1994-95 season and currently has a 38 game non-conference winning streak in this building. In addition, the Terps have won nearly 80 percent of their games played in Cole since Williams's coaching tenure at Maryland began in 1989.

The cheerleaders and pep band are among the most enthusiastic and devoted fans of the Maryland Basketball program. During the basketball season, both organizations work from opening tip to final buzzer and beyond in support of Terp basketball. Both the cheerleaders and the pep band play at all home games, the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and all post-season games. Both groups followed the team to Salt Lake City and Oakland during the NCAA Tournament last season.

The enthusiastic and spirited Terp cheerleading squad placed eighth at the Collegiate Nationals sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association this past year in Dallas, Texas. The squad is coached by Lura Fleece and Tina Simijoski who are both former Terp cheerleaders. In addition to leading Cole Field House in cheers, the cheerleaders are also expert gymnasts and dancers. They are accompanied by a student who dresses up as Testudo, Maryland's famous mascot. The squad performs at many athletic department functions, pep rallies and area functions spreading Terp spirit and athletic awareness.

The pep band has become as much a part of Maryland basketball as full-court pressure defense and up-tempo offense under Gary Williams. The atmosphere in Cole as the band begins to play and the Terps take to the court is unmatched in any basketball court in the ACC. The pep band has been in existence since the opening of Cole and performs at every home game. In addition to traditional fight songs, the pep band provides an entertaining selection of well-known songs and show tunes to entertain and energize the sold-out crowds.

The entire basketball program, coaches and players, know how hard both the cheerleaders and pep band work on their behalf. The fact that tickets for Cole are sold out this season is proof that the support of the Terps is growing to levels never seen before in College Park.

"The work and effort that goes in to preparing themselves each night for an entire season is incredible," says Williams. "Their tireless effort, gives us, I believe, the best support in the ACC. We love playing in Cole Field House because of their efforts."

Terp Airwaves

BAL (1090-AM) in Baltimore and WTOP (1500-AM) in Washington, D.C. are the flagship stations of the Learfield Sports/Maryland Radio Network which has over 20 affiliates in Maryland, the District of Columbia and Pennsylvania. The network carries every Maryland basketball game, plus insightful pregame and post-game programs with Head Coach Gary Williams along the fastest growing basketball network in the Atlantic Coast Conference region.

Johnny Holliday is in his 17th season as Maryland's play-by-play voice. He has been involved with the program since the 1980 season and has accompanied the Terps to nine NCAA Tournaments and two NITs. Former Terp basketball great Greg Manning provides the color analysis. Manning is in his tenth season on the radio team, and draws upon his experience and insight from nearly 15 years of involvement with the Maryland program to provide poignant analysis.

The very popular Gary Williams' weekly radio show can be heard on WBAL. The one-hour call in show is hosted by WBAL sports director Josh Lewin on Monday evenings from 6-7 p.m. The second half-hour of the progam will be heard throughout the listening region on all of the Learfield/Maryland radio network stations, except for WTOP.

JOHNNY HOLLIDAY Play-by-Play

Johnny Holliday has earned the reputation as one of the finest play-by-play announcers in the nation. Currently in his 17th year covering the Maryland basketball team, he has earned the title, "Voice of the Terps."

Besides calling the action for the Maryland basketball and football teams, Holliday is the host of the award winning Gary Williams' Show. In addition, he handles a myriad of speaking duties within the Athletic Departmentanging from banquets, to alumni functions, to Terrapin Club and M-Club functions and golf outings.

Holliday's list of credits includes morning and afternoon sports reports heard across the nation on ABC Radio. He has also covered for ABC the Winter and Summer Olympic games (1984, 1988 and 1992), the Masters Golf Tournament, championship boxing, professional football, and numerous college football bowl games. He will cover the 1995 Atlanta Summer games for ABC. He also hosts a daily morning sports show and an afternoon show which are syndicated nationally by the ABC Radio Network.

Holliday's announcing career allows him to lav claim to being Washington's most versatile broadcaster, and among the best nationwide. Whether it be in radio, where he was named America's number one disc jockey during his rock 'n roll DJ days, to his public address duties with the Cleveland Browns, Oakland Raiders, Golden State Warriors, to his work in Washington television for the Senators and Bullets, Holliday makes a complicated business look easy.

He brings that ease to the Maryland coach's television shows on Home Team Sports, the region's premier sports channel. He is also seen there as host of Redskins General Manager Charley Casserly's show and as host of ACC Sports Sunday. He also does special events for HTS that include baseball, tennis, basketball, and track and field.

A native of Miami, Fla., Holliday began his broadcasting career in Perry, Georgia, and through the years has worked in three of the nation's prime radio markets: New York City, San Francisco and Washington.

He has the honor of being a member of the Sigma Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa.

He and his wife Mary Clare are the parents of three daughters. Kellie is a physician along with her husband Steve; they reside in Bel Air, Md. Tracie is a Neo-natal nurse at Children's Hospital; her husband Chris is an attorney and they live in Kensington, Md. Moira is a sophomore at Georgetown Visitation Prep School in Washington.

GREG MANNINGColor Commentary

Greg Manning, the Director of Major Gifts for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, is in his tenth year as a member of the Maryland basketball broadcast crew. Manning has developed a very charismatic style on the air, one which the fans of Terps' basketball have grown accustomed.

As the Director of Major Gifts, Manning has continued his devotion to Terrapin Athletics through his daily professional life. He was appointed the Director of Major Gifts in 1994. He had held the position of Executive Director of the M-Club from 1991-94 where he helped develop and strengthen the university's athletic letter winners organization. In his current position, Manning has the responsibility of raising the funds needed to support the capital projects of the Athletic Department.

Nearly 16 years after his playing career ended, Manning is still listed prominently in the Terps' recordbooks including holding the record for consecutive baskets made with 15 during the 1981 season. In addition, he is one of only two players in school history to shoot 75 percent or above from the free throw line during each of his four varsity seasons.

Off the court, Manning was a 1981 Academic All-American and a three-time All-ACC Academic selection. He earned an NCAA Post Graduate Scholarship upon his graduation from Maryland.

Manning and his wife, Cathy, have a son, Greg, Jr., 10 and a daughter, Courtney, 6, and are residents of Ellicott City, Md.

LEARFIELD COMMUNICATIONS

Learfield Communications was founded in 1972, originally as Missouri Network, Inc., by Clyde Lear and Derry Brownfield. What began as a small farm network, heard over six radio stations, is now a company that provides a wide array of services to hundreds of broadcasters across the country. Besides the sports division. Learfield also does business through four other operating divisions: Farm, News, Satellite and Data.

Learfield Sports is one of the largest sports marketing groups in the country. Besides Maryland, Learfield Sports holds the radio broadcast rights to the University of Missouri, the University of Iowa, Indiana University, Purdue University, the University of Wisconsin, the University of Arizona, the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma State University. Learfield also distributes the broadcasts of the University of Illinois, Iowa State University and the University of Kansas.

Season Review

TERPS RETURN TO THE NATION'S ELITE

The 1994-95 season will long be remembered as a breakthrough season for the Maryland basketball program.

Many accomplishments made the 1994-95 season one of the finest in College Park history.

- The Terps advanced to the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament for the second consecutive season, making Maryland one of just five teams to advance to the regional semifinals in each of the past two years.
- The Terps' 26 victories were the second most in school history and the most in 25 years.
- The Terps finished the season with a No. 11 ranking by the Associated Press, the highest by a Maryland team since 1980.
- The Terps tied for the regular season championship of the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- The Terps' Joe Smith became the first Maryland basketball player to earn National Player of the Year honors.
- The Terps established new team records: Most points in a season (2,946) and most points in a game (138 vs. Morgan State); they led the ACC in scoring (86.7) and margin of victory (+12.7).
- The Terps set a new alltime season attendance mark (420,552), and an alltime per game average mark (13,814). Maryland was 19th in the nation in home attendance at Cole and had a 95.3 percent capacity rate for the entire season.
- The Terps finished undefeated at home (16-0) for only the fourth time in school history.

"Two-hundred-and-ninety-five of 300 NCAA schools would like to have done what we have done in the last two years," said Gary Williams following Maryland's regional semifinal round loss to Connecticut at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. "That's go to the "Sweet 16" back-to-back. But people's expectations, and my expectations, were to go further than the "Sweet 16" this season after what we did last year and who we had coming back. That makes it tough.

"But we're very proud of what we did and I'm very proud our players got 26 wins and tied for the regular season championship of the ACC. Three years ago, we won two ACC games during the regular season. Once we look past this game, we'll all appreciate what this team has accomplished."

After 1993-94's breakthrough season, expectations soared for the Terps. The pressure to win did not exist before Maryland's upset of Massachusetts in the NCAA Tournament changed everything. In 1994-95, a first place finish in the ACC was a distinct possibility with five starters back as was a Final Four berth.

The Terps met many of those expectations, leading the ACC in several categories. They finished in a four-way tie for the regular season championship, despite the loss of Williams down the stretch due to pneumonia. In his place, assistant coaches Billy Hahn, Art Perry and Jimmy Patsos led Maryland to a strong 2-2 mark and to the semifinal round of the ACC Tournament. Maryland lost to Final Four participant North Carolina in overtime after defeating Florida State in the ACC Tournament.

"Last year (1993-94), we were picked for the ACC cellar, and this year we finished in a tie for first. That's how far we have come," said National Player of the Year Joe Smith, shortly after playing in his last game as a Terp. "By that measure, yes, this season was a huge success for our program. That's the way that I will look at the season."

Maryland opened at the Maui Invitational. The Terps' strong pre-season rankings elevated expectations from the start. The Terps defeated Chaminade, the host school, and a tough Utah team before falling to eventual NCAA Participant Arizona State in the championship game.

The regular season was a highlight film of slam dunks, buzzer beaters and three-point shots.

Maryland swept Clemson, Duke, Florida State, N.C.
State, and beat Virginia, North Carolina and Wake Forest at home. In a game that could have propelled the Terps to the top three, they stumbled at Georgia Tech in early February. The Terps lost to Virginia on the final day of the regular season to tie the conference standings in knots.

Outside of the ACC, the Terps played a competitive national schedule in which they were able to display their talents on national television. The Terps played well against Massachusetts in the Baltimore Arena and defeated Cincinnati, 74-72, in a game played in the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas.

Statistically, Maryland was a handful. In addition to leading the conference in scoring, margin of victory and ranking second in field goal percentage (.498), the Terps finished first in rebound margin (+6.5) and steals (8.9). Despite establishing the school record for points in a season, the Terps ranked eighth in three-point shooting (.353).

Many speculated the team missed Williams, who became ill prior to the Terps' game versus Duke in Cameron Indoor Stadium. Williams missed the final two regular season games and the ACC Tournament. He returned for the Terps NCAA Tournament run as the Terps recorded a 2-1 mark.

"It was the most unusual season I have ever had," said Williams, who had never before missed a game because of illness.

In addition to Smith. Maryland's talented starters elevated their games. Johnny Rhodes found his shooting range more often than not, while Exree Hipp was among the best defenders in the nation and peaked as the Terps came down the stretch. Keith Booth was consistent throughout the entire season, and defensively was without many peers in the ACC. Duane Simpkins played well all season and keyed the Terps in all three rounds of the NCAA Tournament. All five starters averaged in double figures for the second consecutive season.

The bench played extraordinarily well. Mario Lucas and senior Wayne Bristol were impact players coming off the bench throughout the season. Williams went with a mostly seven-man rotation. But Rodney Elliott's playing time increased down the stretch. Guard Matt Kovarik slumped early, but regained his confidence and was able to assume a defensive stopper's role. Sarunas Jasikevicius also gained a form that helped him throughout the course of the season.

The Terps' success brought increased local and national media attention. Smith attracted much of the attention during his National Player of the Year campaign, and the resulting speculation about his collegiate or professional future. Stories appeared in many national publications, including a five page spread in Sports Illustrated, following the Terps victory over No. 1 North Carolina.

Tickets for games in Cole Field House became increasingly hard to obtain, and students camped out for 24 hours to pick-up tickets for Maryland's battle versus UNC. It was called the largest student turnout for basketball tickets by Maryland students ever by athletic department officials.

"I like our team next season," said Gary Williams, following his team's loss to Connecticut in the West Region semifinals of the NCAA Tournament. "I like our team because even without Joe we have four starters back and look at how many players the rest of the ACC loses. We have some great recruits. We'll be ready to play whatever the circumstances."

tion...He became one of only three sophomores in the history of the conference to earn player of the year honors, joining only N.C. State's David Thompson and Virginia's Ralph Sampson...Is one of only two players in conference history to be a 1st team All-ACC selection in both his freshman and sophomore seasons, joining Georgia Tech's Kenny Anderson...A consensus 1st team All-American, named on every 1st Team All-American list following his extraordinarily productive sophomore season...Led the ACC in scoring as a sophomore with a 20.9 points per game average, was second in the conference with a 10.7 rebounds per game average and was second in the ACC with a 2.9 blocks per game average...Ranked among the top five in an incredible six statistical categories during his sophomore season...Became only the sixth player in school history to score 40 or more points in a single game as he scored 40 points to lift Maryland past Duke, 94-92, on March 1, 1995...He scored 30 or more points in a single game seven times during his two-year career - the second most ever by a Maryland player... Averaged 20.1 points and 10.7 rebounds for his 64 game career - he is one of only five players in school history to average a double/double for his entire career...He became only the first sophomore in school history to score 1,000 career points and became only the second sophomore in school history to grab 500 rebounds...Led the Terps in rebounding during both his freshman and sophomore seasons...His 363 total rebounds as a sophomore was the third best single season total in school history...Twice as a sophomore, he grabbed a career high 21 rebounds - versus Virginia on February 1, 1995 and versus Texas in the year's NCAA Tournament... Only the second player in school history to average in double figures in rebounds during both his freshman and sophomore years...One of only six ACC players in the history of the conference to have averaged at least 20 points and at least 10 rebounds for his entire career...Joins Art. Heyman of Duke, Billy Cunningham and Len Rosenbluth of North Carolina, Wallace Grady of South Carolina and Len Chappell of Wake Forest in that category ...The no. 1 overall selection in the 1995 NBA draft by the Golden State Warriors.
